BELIEVE LOST MAN IS KILLED

Search For Norwegian Lost on Way to Nanaimo Futile

Had Sum of Money When He Left Vancouver Lodging House

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—Fear that Martin Frantzen, forty-five, Norwegian boatbuilder, has been the victim of foul play is expressed by city police after a Province-wide search for the man who has been missing from Drake Street since April.

Frantzen left his lodgings after informing persons there that he was going to Nanaimo to repair a boat. The work would occupy only a short time, he said, and he would return to his rooms, where he left practically all his clothing, with the exception of working apparel and a number of valuable tools.

No anxiety for him was felt, until several weeks ago, when his wife in Norway, with whom he had corresponded regularly, wrote to friends here making inquiries.

NEVER REACHED NANAIMO
On September 3 the case was reported to Detective Sergeant James Tolmie of the missing persons bureau at police headquarters. Inquiries made at Nanaimo disclosed that the man had apparently never gone to that city so provincial police were appealed to and their officers made inquiries throughout the Province, but without result.

It was learned that Frantzen had just disposed of a boat that he had built before his disappearance, and had a substantial sum of money when he left the lodging house. Police say he was a man of steady habits, and that no motive for his wishing to disappear has been found.

The fact that he never reached Nanaimo, where he was expected, and his wish to employ him, led investigators to express the belief that he was the victim of foul play or misadventure.

The missing man is described as being five feet nine inches tall, medium build, and with fair hair and complexion.

U.S. POLICE ON NORTHCOTT TRAIL

In Vancouver With Evidence For Extradition Proceedings

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—Extradition to California, of Gordon Stewart Northcott on murder charges arising out of the Riverside chicken ranch disclosures, advanced one stage to-day with the arrival in Vancouver of two United States police officers.

They are Albert L. Kelly, chief investigator for the District Attorney's office of Riverside County, and James R. Quinn, special investigator.

Following their arrival this morning on the Seattle steamer, the officers conferred with Hon. E. L. Mail, land, K.C., who has been retained, as counsel for the California authorities in the extradition proceedings.

Later they discussed the case with Walter Owen, assistant superintendent of Provincial Police, Vancouver.

The United States officers brought with them transcripts of evidence which has been adduced against Northcott.

British Fight on Challenge of Socialism, Says Premier

Great Yarmouth, Eng., Sept. 28.—Premier Stanley Baldwin has rejected a demand that the Conservatives make their appeal for election on the tariff. He believes that the great issue in the voting next year will be the challenge of Socialism against constitutionalism and individualism. Before Mr. Baldwin spoke to the Conservative conference it had unanimously adopted a resolution calling for the widest possible extension of the policy of safeguarding industries so far as it would be consistent with the pledge of the Pre-

BISHOP WRONG, FORKE STATES

No Foundation For Statement They Are Not Welcome in Canada

Winnipeg, Sept. 27.—That there was no foundation for the charge made by Bishop Lloyd at a luncheon here yesterday, that "there has been and is today a deliberate attempt to keep the British out of Canada," was the declaration made by Hon. Robert Forke, Minister of Immigration to-day.

Speaking over the long distance telephone from his farm at Pipestone, Minn., Mr. Forke said: "We are doing everything possible to bring to Canada Britishers, whom we think are willing and capable of working on Canadian farms, no matter what district they come from. We are paying, with the help the British Government and the railways, their passage to their Canadian destination. We are giving them this money so that their start will not be surrounded with so many difficulties encountered by the earlier pioneers, and those who to-day are coming in from non-British countries."

"We are associating ourselves with every good organization having the people's best interests at heart to advance the settlement of British in Canada, and we are doing nothing for members of any other nationality who are coming into Canada."

"What else should we do or can do in all practical commonsense that we are not now doing?"

Millionaire To Stand Trial On Tax Charges

Hull, York, Eng., Sept. 28 (Canadian Press Cable).—Despite willingness of the prosecution to withdraw the charges on account of the serious condition of the defendant's health, Sir Walter Herbert Cockfield, millionaire Yorkshire shipowner, was committed for trial by the Hull police magistrate yesterday when he was arraigned on charges of making false income tax returns.

Sir Walter pleaded not guilty to the charges of the revenue authorities. He was allowed bail of $10,000 on his own recognizance.

Sir Walter has paid $150,000 in penalties, in addition to $535,000 already paid to the revenue authorities for duty.

FIVE YEARS FOR DRUG PEDDLER

Judge Cayley Follows Lead in Heavy Penalties

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—Five years' imprisonment and a fine of $1,000 was the sentence imposed Thursday by Judge Cayley upon Wong Chong, who pleaded guilty to a charge of selling drugs.

His Honor announced that he thought it wise to follow the precedent of Magistrate Shaw in the amount of the sentence because it would not do for one court to deal with cases on a different basis from another.

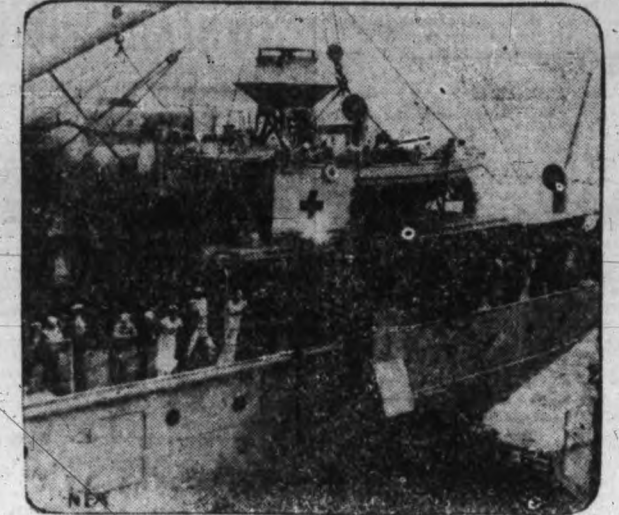

Wong Chong also pleaded guilty to having drugs in possession and received a further sentence of one year in prison and a fine of $200.

In default of payment of the first fine there is an additional six months' penalty, and in default of the second fine three months.

New York Sends Aid to Porto Rico

Bound for devastated Porto Rico with emergency supplies for thousands of homeless, hungry and sick, the United States transport bridge is shown as it left New York harbor. U. S. REJECTS ANGLO-FRENCH NAVAL TREATY Cannot be Accepted as Basis of Discussion, Blunt and Critical Note From Washington to London Foreign Office Says.

Washington, Sept. 28.—A blunt and critical rejection of the Franco-British naval agreement has been transmitted to London and Paris by the United States Government.

"The Government of the United States feels that no useful purpose would be served by accepting as a basis of discussion the Franco-British proposal," an American identic note to the two powers, made public to-night by the State Department, said.

London, Sept. 28 (Canadian Press Cable).—It is not considered that the American note to Great Britain regarding the naval compromise between Great Britain and France precludes the possibility of further discussion, it was stated in authoritative circles to-night.

It was impossible to say at present whether any reply would be called for or what the reaction to the note would be. Any comment is necessarily a question for the cabinet and the note concerns not one, but a number of departments, it was stated.

The United States Government has no objection to any agreement between France and Great Britain which those countries think will be to their advantage and in the interest of limitation of armaments, but naturally cannot consent that such an agreement should be applied to the United States.

Specifically the United States objection to the Franco-British accord was based on the contention that it would restrict only types of ships "peculiarly suited to the needs of the United States," and leave unlimited combat ships of great value to any nation having widely distributed fueling bases or great merchant marine tonnage.

The note was marked throughout by a sharpness in tone and frankness in stating the American viewpoint that plainly indicated irritation in Washington over the Franco-British agreement which London and Paris up to this time had declined to make public.

Singapore Dock Job Goes To Jackson Firm

London, Sept. 28.—The British Admiralty announced last night that the contract for construction of the new dockyard at Singapore has been awarded to Messrs. Sir John Jackson Limited of London. The contract calls for completion of the work in seven years.

The works are to be situated on the old strait separating the islands of Singapore from the Mainland and the site has been specially chosen with regard to British naval requirements and engineering necessities.

It is estimated that the naval port of the whole Singapore scheme will cost £7,500,000, which is the figure submitted to the House of Commons and included in the naval estimates for 1928.

SEVEN APPEAR IN COURT TO FACE LIQUOR CHARGES AFTER SERIES OF RAIDS

BOOHER GUILTY FOUR MURDERS

Alberta Man Sentenced to Hang on December 15

Edmonton, Sept. 28.—Vernon Booher was found guilty to-day of the murder of his mother, his brother, and two hired men on his father's farm near Mannville, on July 9.

He was immediately sentenced by Chief Justice Simmons to hang on December 15 at Fort Saskatchewan jail. The jury reported its verdict at 12.05.

When asked if he had anything to say Booher replied: "I am not guilty."

The trial, adjourned at 5 p.m. Thursday after E. B. Cogswell, K.C., crown prosecutor, and Neil D. MacLean, counsel for Vernon Booher, the Mannville youth who is charged with a quadruple murder, had addressed the jury. The jury was then locked up for the night.

Chief Justice Simmons started addressing the jury at 9:30 a.m. to-day, and carefully reviewed the evidence.

At 10:25 a.m. his lordship having concluded his address the jury retired.

Two hours were required for the stubborn fight which Neil MacLean, K.C., made for Booher's life and acquittal. His chief point of defence was that the crown had produced no motive for Vernon Booher killing his mother and brother. No evidence had been produced to show that there was any friction between Vernon and the other members of his family.

E. B. Cogswell, K.C., made one of the most brilliant addresses of his career when he presented the case for the crown. Although Adjutant Stewart of the Salvation Army, with the permission of the accused, had told of statements which Booher made to him the crown prosecutor did not dwell on this point but rested his case chiefly on evidence produced by the Alberta Provincial Police.

EDITOR DIES IN TORONTO

John R. Robinson Chief of Telegram Since 1889

Toronto, Sept. 28.—John R. Robinson, editor since 1889 of The Toronto Evening Telegram, died this morning. Mr. Robinson had been seriously ill for several months.

Mr. Robinson died at his summer home in Beaverton, Ont.

Mr. Robinson was born in Guelph, Ont., May 9, 1862. He is survived by a mother. He was left fatherless at the age of three. Lacking wealth or influence, he was blessed by the greatest of all advantages, the wise care of a devoted mother. His school days were spent in the public schools of Guelph and Orangeville. To the latter place his mother moved when he was eight years of age. At the age of thirteen he left school and returned to Guelph to enter as an apprentice in the printing trade in the office of The Guelph Mercury. He mastered his trade in the days of the "case," and acquired with it a friendship with printers that endured throughout his life.

NOBODY LOVES A FAT MAN, BUT HE OFTEN GETS THE BREAKS.

Squad of Provincial Police Officers Work All Night Raiding Various Island Highway Resorts; Quantities of Liquor Seized and Seven Arrests Made; Pleas of Not Guilty Entered in Court This Morning by the Defendants.

In an all-night series of raids and arrests, along the Island Highway, Provincial Police last night and early this morning swooped down on alleged bootlegging operators, roadside owners and taxi-drivers and charged with handling liquor contrary to law. As a result, seven persons were arraigned in the provincial police court here this morning to face various charges under the Government Liquor Act.

Those arrested were:

R. W. Frayne, Mill Bay; charged with selling liquor. Released on $500 bail.

Charles Cronk; charged with selling liquor, also with having in possession liquor not sealed with the official seal. Released on $500 bail.

Arthur W. Curtis, Mill Bay; charged with selling liquor. Released on $500 bail.

Mrs. Pearl Simmons, Monte Carlo Inn, Colwood; charged with keeping liquor for sale. Released on $500 bail.

Leighton Miles, Victoria; charged with keeping liquor for sale and also with having unsealed liquor in his possession. Did not raise bail.

Roy Morrison, Victoria; charged with selling liquor and also with having unsealed liquor in his possession. Released on bail of $500.

Elizabeth Alexander, colored, of Chanticleer Inn, Island Highway; charged with keeping liquor for sale. Bail set $1,000.

Cronk, pleading guilty, was fined $75 on the charge of having liquor in his possession not sealed with the official seal. On the other charge he pleaded not guilty. All the other accused pleaded not guilty to the various charges, hearing of which was postponed until next week.

WORKED ALL NIGHT

Seven Provincial Police officers, assisted by Sergeant Robert Owens, conducted the sudden outburst of open war against alleged illegal vendors of liquor. Riding motorcycles and in automobiles this squad, composed of Sergeant Owens, Corporal C. Clarke and Constables Hughes, R. G. Harvey, W. A. McBrayne, A. G. Carmichael and R. E. Meadows, commenced operations at 9 o'clock last night and worked throughout the late hours of the evening and the early hours this morning, visiting various premises along the Island Highway and making arrests as they went.

ANSWERED PHONE CALLS
Taxi-drivers were willing to bring liquor out to various places on the highway in response to telephone calls from different sources, stated Sergeant Owens. The police were made as a result of these obliging responses. Cronk was apprehended on the highway near the Four-mile Hill, and Morrison was also taken on the highway. Miles was arrested on Admirals Road.

Over one hundred bottles of liquors of various brands were seized by the officers during the raids. Beer, rum, gin and whiskey taken.

Explosion In London Centre

London, Sept. 28.—Peculiarly Circus, London's famous spinwheel traffic centre, was thrown into confusion last evening at the home of a gas explosion. Five workers employed in an excavation for a new tube station were injured and taken to hospital.

The terrific report startled the whole vicinity which was thrown into further confusion when smoke and flames came from the excavation.

All traffic was disorganized for some time but the subway itself was not affected.

MOVE TO STRIKE VICTORIA DENTIST OFF B.C. REGISTER

Vancouver, Sept. 28.—Evidence in support of proceedings instituted by the College of Dental Surgeons of British Columbia to have the name of Frank Corin, Victoria dentist, erased from its register, must be oral and in court, according to a decision of Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald in Supreme Court. An application for directions as to the manner in which a charge of unprofessional conduct against Corin should be proved was made on behalf of the college by E. J. R. Remnant. He stated that Corin was arrested in Victoria on May 22 on a criminal charge and disappeared before the case was heard while he was on bail.

TREND TOWARD GAS TAX JUMP

Highways Minister of New Brunswick Forecasts Five-cent Levy

The tendency of provincial governments to transfer to motorists an increasing share of the maintenance of highways has a new supporter in Hon. D. A. Stewart, Minister of Highways for New Brunswick. At the convention of the Good Roads League of Canada at Regina yesterday he forecast that the gasoline tax in his province would probably be increased to five cents a gallon.

The question of raising the gas tax in British Columbia became a very live issue with motorists here this week when Hon. N. S. Loughheed, Minister of Public Works, intimated that the next sitting of the British Columbia Legislature would likely have to deal with recommendations for an increase in the tax.

BROOKLYN HINT
Mr. Stewart was an unexpected guest at the Good Roads Convention, and in a five-minute address stated he would not announce any policy, but it was more than probable that the next session of the New Brunswick Legislature would raise the gasoline tax to five cents per gallon.

He expressed the view that, while the tax was not popular, there was very little opposition to it when it was recognized by those who paid it that good roads resulted from their contribution to the treasury.

Lloyd George Speaks For His Daughter

Llangefni, Wales, Sept. 28.—David Lloyd George spoke here yesterday in support of the candidacy of his daughter, Megan, who has been selected as the prospective Liberal candidate for Parliament from this division. He told his audience, speaking in Welsh, that he would not be responsible for anything his daughter might say, as he could not be blamed for her speeches. He said he was supporting her candidacy, not because she was his daughter, but because she was the choice of the party.

CHAMBER HAS BEEN ACTIVE DURING PAST SUMMER, SAYS REPORT

Unlike other years, the Chamber of Commerce has maintained its intensive activities throughout the summer months this year and many important matters have been handled by the directors, according to their report presented at the quarterly meeting of the chamber to-day.

The report reads as follows: Your directors wish to report that since your last quarterly meeting many important matters have been handled by the directors, and the summer season, unlike those of previous years, when activities are usually somewhat curtailed, has proved one of considerable activity.

Committee work and interest has been well maintained and business coming before regular meetings of your board has been of more than usual importance and account.

Congratulations to the members of the Junior Branch are certainly in order. Their activities have been many and varied, and though it was never intended that this report should include the many details, well worth mention is the outstanding success attending their efforts in organizing and carrying through to such a success, Victoria's 24th of May Celebration this year. Their application to the city, in this connection, was fully endorsed by the directors of the Senior Branch. The closest of relations exist between the Senior and Junior Branches, directors' meetings of each being attended by the other's representative, with a view to the maintenance of a common purpose and a continuity and consistency, so essential to the success of the whole chamber.

WEST COAST ROAD

The results attending the persistent efforts looking to the construction of the road along the West Coast of the Island were indeed gratifying, and all are aware of the success attending the ground-breaking ceremony at Jordan River, arranged in celebration of the commencement of the work of this construction. It is hoped that this work will be pushed on to early completion. Considerable attention has been given to the contemplated establishment of a ferry service between Salt Spring Island and the Saanich Peninsula. The Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored this movement, and after considerable hard work and effort it is expected that an early announcement of a definite nature in respect to this service will be made.

HUNTERS WARNED ABOUT CAMP FIRES

Sparks from a hunter's fire between Humpback and Goldstream started a blaze which burned over an acre of timber land before being brought under control this week. It was stated by P. M. Preston, chief forester and water conservationist, in a warning to hunters to-day. Unless greater care were used hunting privileges on the city watersheds would have to be revoked, said Mr. Preston, drawing attention to the serious results that would follow a fire in the area.

OUTSIDE PUPILS MAY BE EXPELLED FROM ESQUIMALT

Board Considers Sending Non-resident Students From Municipal Schools

Reports issued by principals of the Esquimalt High School and Lamson Street School, informed the Esquimalt School Board that some thirty pupils living in districts outside the municipality were attending Esquimalt schools, while many Esquimalt students attended city schools. After a lengthy discussion at the board meeting last night as to whether these pupils should be sent to the schools of their own districts, the suggestion was made that a committee be formed to see what justification there was for the present arrangements. It is expected that by the next meeting an arrangement will have been made whereby only pupils who are in grade 8 will be allowed to continue their studies in schools of districts in which they do not live.

REPORTS ON CONVENTION

That Bible reading would not become a part of British Columbia school courses was definitely shown at the annual convention of the B.C. School Trustees held in Victoria recently, when a motion suggesting that Bible training be incorporated into the children's studies was rejected. Chairman Alex. Lockley said in his report on the convention.

The chairman said Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, had attended the gathering and had stated that there would be no immediate change in educational legislation. Mr. Lockley spoke of the importance of these conventions at which the various municipalities were to learn what was being done by the different school boards of the Province. He was exceedingly pleased to see the interest taken in education by the board, and was very gratified to note that Hon. the Lieutenant-Governor, who attended the session had expressed his interest in the subject.

CHAIRMAN'S STATUS

Communications read before the meeting included a letter from the Minister of Education in which he stated that he had received inquiries relating to the validity of Mr. Lockley's position on the board. In a personal conversation with the latter, Mr. Hinchliffe intimated that neither he, the Department of Education nor the school board could take any action against the chairman, but should any single ratepayer consider himself aggrieved he could settle the question in a legal manner.

The chairman said the Minister of Education could find no technicality in the school by-laws whereby the business transacted by the board during Mr. Lockley's membership could be made invalid. As far as the Department of Education was concerned the matter was ended, he concluded. A motion made by Trustee Hadfield and seconded

BORDER CITIES VOTE ON UNITY

Amalgamation Plebiscite Up at Municipal Elections

Toronto, Sept. 28.—Windsor, Ford City, Walkerville, Sandwich and Riverdale, towns and cities along the Detroit River and commonly grouped under the name "Border Cities," will vote at their forthcoming municipal elections on a plebiscite calling for their amalgamation into one city. If the recommendations of J. A. Ellis, director of the bureau of municipal affairs, are accepted, if his recommendations are approved and the voters favor the plan, the Walkerville town hall would become the civic building and the name of the new city would be chosen by Viscount Willingdon, Governor-General of Canada. In his report on the proposal, Mr. Ellis states that the new municipality would have a population of 105,273 and an assessed area of 10,618 acres.

Canada Sets World's Record Grain Marketing

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Western Canadian farmers marketed a grand total of 32,705,776 bushels of grain over weighing machines along Canadian Pacific lines for the weekly period ending at midnight last night. Friday's figures, 6,040,547 bushels, constituted a world's record in one day's marketing. Loadings for that period were 11,565 cars.

The great yards at Transcona, opening recently to facilitate the movement, passed 5,386 cars eastbound to the head of the lakes during the week, where storage this morning is placed at 18,150,000 bushels; 1,242,000 bushels were shipped down the lakes yesterday. From Calgary 1,159 cars of Alberta grain were billed to Vancouver, where storage this morning is 2,238,148 bushels.

Country elevator storage is leaping up, the total last night being 41,523,797 bushels.

In 1881, at the age of nineteen, he left Guelph to join the editorial staff of The Toronto Globe. There he remained for two years, leaving in May, 1883, to take a place on The Telegram under the late John Ross Robertson. His first assignment was the waterfront. Six years later he was transferred from the City Hall assignment to become editor, succeeding Alexander F. Finke.

SAW TORONTO GROW

Mr. Robinson came to Toronto when it was a small town, and saw it grow into a great modern city. Upon its destinies his grasp of public affairs, his sound convictions and his vigorous presentation of news had great influence. His defiance of what in his eyes was considered wrong was courageous and regardless of consequences. His writings dealt with persons and things rather than with abstractions, but when his attacks seemed most personal they were directed not against the persons attacked, but the principles for which they stood.

His warm heart never tired in the battle for the under dog. He once said characteristically, "When you get a paper like this for the sake of persons and friendships betrays the public, you are getting a newspaper that is hard on some poor devil who has not a friend this side of heaven."

Mr. Robinson's whole-hearted devotion to the British connection and his ardent espousal of the hydro-electric development in Ontario under government ownership, are perhaps the outstanding features of a life that was active in all the public affairs of the past forty-five years. Sir Adam Beck gratefully acknowledged the assistance. Mr. Robinson was one of those who spoke at the formal turning on of public owned hydro-power on October 12, 1910.

He was a staunch Presbyterian and an uncompromising opponent of the Church Union movement. He was a member of the Masonic Order, and as an Orangeman was member of Cameron L.O.L. #18. While in the Old Country in 1925 he spoke at the Orange demonstration at Belfast on July 12, endorsing the resolution of loyalty to the Crown. In September of that year he was made honorary charter member of Peter Varwell L.O.L., a lodge named after the fisherman who carried William of Orange ashore on his arrival in England at the spot where the lodge is established. His protectionist convictions made him a determined opponent of the reciprocity pact in 1911. Shortly after entering on his editorship he married Miss Jessie Simpson, daughter of the Rev. James Simpson, Methodist minister at Richmond Hill, Ont. Their children are Miss Judith Robinson, Mrs. Baker, wife of Capt. E. A. Baker, and John R. Robinson, barrister. There are six grand-children.

POLICE SWOOP ON ALLEGED BOOTLEGGERS

Several of the premises at which arrests were made had been under suspicion for some time, according to Sergeant Owens.

RAIDED CHANTICLEER

After making arrangements with the several taxi-drivers to meet parties at spots near the Four Mile Hill and completing their arrests, the squad proceeded to the road-house known as the Chanticleer, on the Island Highway, about five miles from the city, according to Sergeant Owens.

A previous conviction had been secured against operators at these premises and evidence of the alleged second offence was secured last week. Elizabeth Alexander was arrested at the Chanticleer and bail was set at $1,000. A large quantity of liquor was seized, police stated.

Following the Chanticleer raid at 1:15 a.m. the police squad proceeded to the house known as Monte Carlo, near Colwood, where strength of arm was arrested and further liquor was seized.

secured. Mrs. Simmons was later released on $500 bail.

WENT TO MILL BAY

From Monte Carlo the six officers continued on up-island to Mill Bay. The premises of A. W. Freyne, on the west side of the highway, were entered and Freyne was arrested. At the Mill Bay Inn on the opposite side of the highway A. W. Curtis was taken. Further liquor was seized at these places, officers stated.

The accused were all brought back to the city and were held in custody, except for Mrs. Simmons, until they appeared in court this morning.

All the cases except that of Elizabeth Alexander have been set down for hearing Monday morning. While that of Mrs. Alexander will be continued on Wednesday, upon request of counsel, R. C. Lowe.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Asking time to secure counsel, Freyne, who appeared first before Magistrate George Jay this morning, entered his plea of not guilty and bail was fixed at $500 in two sureties.

Charles Cronk, although pleading not guilty to the charge of selling liquor and securing bail, set at $500, pleaded guilty to the charge of having liquor in his possession without the official seal. Constable McBrayne gave evidence of seizing four bottles of liquor from the accused. The liquor, which was not of an official brand was produced in court. Cronk was fined $75 on this charge.

WANTS LIQUOR KEPT

A. M. Johnson, K.C., crown prosecutor, asked for retention of "Home" liquor in police care, to be used as evidence on the other charge. Arthur W. Curtis pleaded not guilty and bail was fixed at $500.

Stuart Henderson, appearing for Mrs. Pearl Simmons, stated his client was out on $500 bail and entered the plea of not guilty.

Leighton Miles pleaded not guilty to both charges. He did not request bail. Morrison also pleaded not guilty on both charges against him and bail was fixed at $500.

Mr. Johnson acted for the crown in each case.

U.S. REJECTS ANGLO- FRENCH NAVAL TREATY

After recalling that the Franco-British understanding was based on a proposition to submit the agreement to the next meeting of the preparatory commission for the disarmament conference as a basis for considering further naval limitation, the American note expressed willingness to "submit certain suggestions" as summarized in the British note.

From the communication of the British Government, "the American reply continues," "It appears that:

FOUR CLASSES

"The limitations which the disarmament conference will have to determine will deal with four classes of men-of-war."

"1. Capital ships, i.e., ships over 10,000 tons or with guns of more than eight-inch calibre (Copy of British note)."

"2. Aircraft carriers of over 10,000 tons. Surface vessels of or below 10,000 tons with guns of more than six-inch and up to eight-inch calibre (Copy of British note)."

"3. Ocean-going submarines over 600 tons."

The first categories of ships, capital ships and aircraft carriers over 10,000 tons, were dismissed by the American note as already regulated by the Washington treaty.

That would leave the Franco-British proposal, it declared, as restricting only types of cruisers "peculiarly suited to the needs of the United States," a distinction between types of surface combat craft, "the United States cannot accept."

LONDON RUBBER PIONEER DIES

London, Sept. 28.—Sir Henry Wickham, known as the father of the British rubber industry and founder of rubber cultivation, died in London today at the age of eighty-three. Sir Henry, after seeing rubber trees tapped in Brazil in 1888, is said to have been the first person to have realized the possibilities of rubber tree plantations.

A GREAT PROJECT

THE MANITOBA FREE PRESS REgards the purchase of the Alberta Government Railways by the Canadian Pacific Company, and the possibility of joint ownership and operation with the Canadian National Railways, as a matter of major importance to the whole of Canada. These lines, it is pointed out, no longer will be mere stubs running from Edmonton north and west into the fertile but isolated Peace River country, but will become an integral part of a great transcontinental system. This means that the rapid and systematic colonization of an empire of about 100,000 square miles is near at hand and that the construction of an outlet to the Pacific Coast comes within this sphere of practical, probably immediate, action.

Of most importance in the new deal, explains The Free Press, is the E. D. & B. C., which arcs northwestward from Edmonton towards Lesser Slave Lake, where the great prairie plateau of the "Peace River Country" begins to open up. Running through its centre lies the Peace River, which midway turns from its eastern course and curves northward, to flow into the Slave River hundreds of miles farther on. From Lesser Slave Lake on the east to Hudson Hope in British Columbia on the west, on both sides of the Peace, a distance of more than 200 miles, there is 73,500 square miles of agricultural country, or 47,000,000 acres, an area greater in extent than Scotland, Ireland and Wales, or more than six times the size of Belgium. The history of its exploration and settlement goes back more than a century, for it was at Peace River Crossing, now a flourishing town, that Alexander Mackenzie wintered before making his astonishing passage through the mountains to the Pacific Coast in 1793.

Ever since Mackenzie's time there has been a continuous record, carried on by Hudson's Bay factors and fur traders, of the phenomenal fertility of the soil, to which can now be added the evidence of 20,000-odd settlers who have taken up land in the Peace River, Grande Prairie and Pouce Coupe districts. Luxuriant vegetation and rapid growth are the chief characteristics of Peace River farming, the lower altitude and longer hours of sunlight amply making up for the comparative shortness of the season. The seasons are well defined and regular, and the severity of the winter often broken by warm chink winds from the west. Here there exists the only accessible free land left in the Dominion. Homesteads can haul wheat by wagon fifty miles to railhead at a cost of thirty cents a bushel and still make money. In a good year yields of sixty and seventy bushels of wheat to the acre are not uncommon. Rich timber limits, excellent grazing land and high-grade coal resources add to the wealth of the district.

The Free Press points out that there is in the Peace River district to-day, lying two-thirds in Albert and one-third in British Columbia, a cultivable territory greater in extent than the whole area now under the plow in the three Prairie Provinces. It is not easy to vision the future production of the Peace River: The sizes of the figures which leap to the mind are too big to be grasped, but they represent a production which will become a fact before many decades have passed. This is what is meant when the Empire of the Peace River is spoken of, and it is easy to understand how important the problem of transportation becomes. Such a district can never be served by feeder lines. At least three passes, the Peace, the Pine and Wapiti, lead through the Rockies westward, and through one of these a railway must run. Will the line join hands with the Pacific Great Eastern, running south to Vancouver, or with the Canadian National, down the Skeena to Prince Rupert, or does the situation call for a new line through the northern parklands of British Columbia to Stewart, and the development of a third seaport on the Canadian Pacific Coast?

Which one, or more, of the routes to the Pacific
mentioned by The Manitoba Free Press will be chosen remains to be seen, but it is certain that this coast will be the outlet for most of the products of the great Peace River country. It is certain, also, that no time will be lost by the transcontinental railway system in creating business to carry the $25,000,000 to be paid for the Alberta railways. This would indicate that the matter of connection with the coast will be decided very soon. In view of this prospect special significance may be attached to a prediction by Sir Herbert Holt, Canada's leading financier and a director of the C.P.R. who recently accompanied President Beatty to the Peace River country, that Vancouver was destined to become the second most important Canadian city within a reasonably short time. Undoubtedly, Vancouver's growth will be greatly accelerated by the development of the Peace River district, but it is beyond doubt, also, that every city on the coast will benefit in great measure with it.
With the resources of the Peace River country behind those of this Province seeking an outlet to the high seas, there will be enough new business to gratify the material ambitions of every sea-port in British Columbia.

THE PRESIDENTIAL STRAW VOTE

TAKING STRAW VOTES ON PUBLIC issues in the United States has become a popular pastime with some large daily newspapers and weekly journals. They now have begun to collect the dummy votes to show which way the political wind seems to be blowing in the presidential election campaign. It would not do to place too much stock on what these early ballots show. They will vary according to the class of people reached by the section of the press which is collecting them.

The vote which The Literary Digest is conducting, including ballots received up till September 18, gives Mr. Hoover 198,292 votes and Mr. Smith 92,855. Although we are not in possession of the details, latest reports indicate that the poll the Hearst papers are taking reveals a much closer fight than that of The Literary Digest.

The Norfolk-Virginian-Pilot recalls that when The Digest took a similar vote in 1924 the charge was made by some Democrats that it was subtle Republican propaganda. The Norfolk paper, of course, is a Democrat journal, and it says on this point:

But this is an old story and, as an old hand at the straw-vote business, The Digest is probably not worried about it. The worrying will have to be done by the politicians. Four years ago The Digest's presidential poll correctly predicted the results in all but two doubtful States and missed the Coolidge and Davis electoral college division by only three votes. The difference between the proportion of the national vote polled by Coolidge and the proportion of The Digest ballots polled by him was 1.29 per cent. If the results were anticipated with this deadly precision in 1924, how much more precise will be the prophecy with the employment of 19-000,000 ballots? The question is enough to cause the G. H. Q. of both parties to look upon The Digest's enterprise with considerable apprehension.

Forecasting the result of elections by any means is about as difficult a job as it would be to predict the exact state of the weather two months hence. In the meantime, however, and in view of the success of its vote in 1924, the ballots so far turned in to The Digest suggest a slim chance for a Smith victory.

MORE CONSERVATIVE DATES DROPPED

BOTH LIBERAL AND LABOR PARTIES demonstrated their courage when they decided to enter a candidate for the Cheltenham vacancy in the British House of Commons in the hope that this traditional Tory seat might be captured from the Baldwin Government. Sir Walter Preston carried the Conservative banner and polled 10,438 votes.
Sir John Brunner was the Liberal candidate and polled 6,678 votes. Miss Florence Widdowson represented Labor and polled 3,963 votes.

The Baldwin Government retains the seat; but it is interesting to note that, except on the occasion of the great Liberal landslide in 1906, Wednesday's contest was the first time an anti-Conservative majority had been recorded in point of votes since the late eighties. In 1906 Mr. J. E. Sears won the seat by a majority of 401; but Mr. Agg-Gardiner, whose death caused the vacancy which has just been filled, recaptured the seat in the next contest. He held it continuously until last month. Incidentally, only one previous three-cornered contest had been fought, in 1895, an Independent on that occasion polling twenty-three votes.

It will be surprising if Cheltenham changes from the Conservative column. Its electorate very largely is composed of retired naval and military officers and former members of the civil service and diplomatic corps. The Liberal and Labor parties would have to unite and cash in on the majority which they jointly rolled up yesterday if such a hope is to be realized. Meanwhile the Conservative vote continues to decline.

WHAT OTHER PAPERS SAY

NO COURTESY ON THE ROAD?
The Armory Chronicle

Mr. M. M. McBride of the Ontario highways department, speaking to the Kiwanis Club of Ottawa, said there was no courtesy on the roads of the province. The speaker was right. Just what is wrong with the man who persists in driving with glaring headlights at night and refuses to dim them no one knows, but the fact remains that in a test made recently by the Ottawa Pembroke highway of thirty cars met in driving, only two had the good sense or the courtesy to dim their lights even when the approaching car requested them to do so by dimming its own. Such disregard of safety is so widespread it cannot be put down to ignorance.
It must be just a lack of ordinary courtesy which everyone exercises in the ordinary business relations of everyday life.

A HIGHER GAS TAX

The Ottawa Citizen

Protests are beginning to be heard in various quarters against the announced plan of the Ontario Government to increase the gasoline tax from three to five cents a gallon. On the whole, these protests are well founded. Five cents a gallon is pretty steep, and Mr.
Ferguson may in effect be killing the goose that lays the golden egg if he persists.

Most persons approve the present gasoline tax, and those directly affected, the motorists, have accepted it in a public-spirited manner and paid up cheerfully, feeling that in doing so they were helping to pay for better roads and other things to their advantage by way of a levy that was simple, fair and "painless."

To raise the tax to five cents, however, is going to cause some remonstrative action beyond mere protests.
It looks too drastic, and probably is. Hundreds of motorists are going to do less traveling in the future, if the increase is authorized.

EXPERT VERNER NOVICE

Another illustration of cautious play:

Dummy—Diamonds A K 9 6 3.

East—Q.

Declarer—J 10 5 4.

West—8 7 2.

On the first round of diamonds the declarer should play the diamond Jack to ascertain the probable location of the diamond Queen. This is a "feint" finesse and at the same time an effort to play for the drop of the possible singleton diamond Queen. If the Queen does not fall on the first round and east is blank of the suit, the declarer should return to his own hand in another suit and finesse the diamond 10.

At times, a finesse should be taken in a watchful manner as in the following illustration:
Dummy—hearts A K J 5 4.
Declarer—6 3 2.

West—7.

On the first round of hearts the declarer should lead the heart 6 and take with the King. Then he should return to his own hand in another suit. The fall of the cards guides him as to whether to finesse the heart Jack on the second round of hearts or not, depending upon the card distribution. SCHOOL HISTORY BOOKS

To the Editor:—Speaking at the Oyo Club luncheon in the Chamber of Commerce Monday last, Prof. W. G. Alexander heartily and properly condemned the history text books in use by public schools, especially the histories of past wars, kings of doubtful character and of mediocre politicians. But, for a man of such wide knowledge as Prof.
Alexander, his statement, which he made, that: "Stephenson, the man who made it possible to revery able man to work, was a humble Scotsman," was a singular blunder.

I presume Prof. Alexander was referring to George Stephenson, the inventor of the railroad locomotive. If so, George Stephenson, the inventor of the locomotive, was born at Wylam, Northumberland, June 9, 1781, therefore an Englishman. If the Professor is correctly reported, this slip is inexcusable, in his case.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS

To the Editor:—Driving up Hillside

and Quadra Streets, I chanced to be keeping pace with a street car. On coming to the Quadra intersection, which is an arterial highway, I naturally stopped (not in wishing to donate the customary $3 to the city coffers) but noticed that the street car kept right on moving.

This is not the first time I have seen the same thing happen. I would like to know if the street car has the right-of-way at all times, including arterial highways. If not, there should be signs informing the general public of the fact, or else serious accidents will be the result.

The average visitor to this city (and about ninety per cent of the residents) will naturally figure, when on an arterial highway, that they have the right-of-way over everything, but they apparently are due for a sudden shock

MISCHIEVOUS BOYS

To the Editor:—Between 8:30 and 9 o'clock last night three boys, mischief bait, destroyed the wire netting on my screen door. A visitor ran out and saw a lad about sixteen years of age, and two smaller boys. They ran down Hillside Avenue. Three boys of the same description, couple of weeks ago stood on the sidewalk and howled into the door, which happened to be open that Sunday afternoon. A considerable time ago, someone threw rocks against the same door and broke the lower panel. This is serious for my wife is unwell, and a sudden crash such as took place last night, may have serious consequences.

I am writing this in the hope that it may catch the eye of the parents of the boys.

ELLEN TERRY'S WILL PUBLISHED

Noted Actress Left Estate
Valued at $110,000

London, Sept. 28.—Dame Ellen Terry, the noted actress, whose will was made public last night, left an estate whose gross value is estimated at $22,231 (approximately $110,000). The value of her personal property was estimated at $10,697.

The estate was left to the immediate family including a bequest of $200, to James Carew of Chicago, her husband, "as a token of goodwill."

Her daughter, Miss Edith Craig, is the executrix and receives the Terry house at Small Hythe in Kent, and has the estate.

The other chief beneficiaries are Miss Terry's son, Edward Gordon Craig, her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eleanor Gordon Craig and her grandchildren, Nellie and Teddy Gordon Craig.

Pictures of the late actress by Watts and Sargent will be sold at Christie's.
It is expected that Miss Terry's home at Small Hythe, where she died, will be made into a national museum.

FLAPPER VOTERS WORRY ALL BRITISH PARTIES

What Will Newly-enfranchised Women Electors Do At Next Poll Is Baffling Question in Old Country Politics As Contest Approaches.

London, Sept. 28.—The question of the flapper vote is a vexing question in Great Britain. Five million little John Bulls, newly-enfranchised by the "flapper" vote act will cast their first ballots in the forthcoming general election some time next year. British political strategists say the election will be won and lost by women. A curious prejudice against the woman party worker on the part of women electors continues to baffle party leaders. The sauciest "flapper" thinks she knows as much about politics as anybody.

The task is to overcome this feeling. Party leaders admit they never will get enough men workers to argue and convince all the women voters of the country.

PARTIES ORGANIZING

Each party, the Conservative, Liberal and Labor, has divided the country into areas, and set up a woman's organization in each. The Conservatives are training women electors in special workers to draw upon out of the million members of the National Women's Conservative Association.

The Labor party has 300,000 members of their women's section. They say every one of them is available for political apode work.

MEGAN LLOYD GEORGE

Megan Lloyd George, fighting for a seat in Parliament beside her famous father, former Premier David Lloyd George, typifies the Liberal effort. All sorts of devices already are being used to capture the elusive "flapper" voter. There are afternoon teas, sewing classes, entertainments, evening functions, all with a dash of politics thrown in.

The best brains of the parties are at work on special vote getting literature, masses of which are being prepared for women. George Bernard Shaw's new book, "Intelligent Women's Guide to Socialism," will play a part in the campaign, although it is theoretical rather than practical in its treatment.

DR. M. THOMSON TALKS TO I.O.D.E.

Municipal Chapter Resumes Activities After Summer Recess

Dr. Murray Thomson gave a brief outline of the work of the Canadian Social Hygiene Council before the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., yesterday afternoon. Mrs. G. Miles expressed the gathering's appreciation to Dr. Thomson for his illuminating talk.

Mrs. Hebdon Gillespie, the regent, was in the chair and the meeting opened with a standing tribute to the memory of the late Mrs. Henry Croft, and also in sympathy with Mrs. Kippen in her recent sad bereavement.

HOME PRODUCE PROTECTION

Following the reading of the summary of the Provincial I.O.D.E. chapter meeting, Mrs. Gillespie was appointed the delegate to attend the semi-annual meeting in Nanaimo, October 16 and 17. A resolution regarding the protection of home produce brought in by Mrs. Gillespie and endorsed by the chapter will be sent forward for discussion at the Nanaimo meeting.

A letter from the secretary of the Society for the Protection of Native Flowers and Plants was read, and many members joined the society and obtained the badge.

Mrs. Simon Leiser sent a gift of hand-knitted infant booties, which were gratefully received by the convalescent soldiers' comforters, Mrs. Miles. A resolution, brought in by Mrs. D. B. McConnon, congratulating the newly formed auxiliary to the Navy League and wishing them success in their work was endorsed.

VOTES OF THANKS

Votes of thanks were passed to Mrs. L. A. Genge and Mrs. Ellis, who convened the banquet given on September 19 to 200 members of the Amputations Clubs convention, the arrangements at the City Temple Hall being carried out in a most capable manner by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the City Temple.

Thanks were also expressed by the Municipal Chapter, and Mrs. Boyd, transportation committee, for all who so kindly lent their cars for the use of the English schoolgirls during their three-day visit in Victoria; to those who so kindly offered hospitality and entertainment to the young visitors, and their chaperones; to Mrs. W. S. Sayer and the Harvey-Boggs Chapter for looking after all the baggage, and to the Bishop of Columbia for granting permission for the use of the south aisle of the new cathedral for the special service on Sunday morning, and his staff for their kind help and co-operation.

I.O.D.E. CALENDARS

The educational secretary, Miss A. B. Cooke, asked members of all primary chapters to co-operate with her in the distribution of the 1929 I.O.D.E. calendars in schools, public offices, halls and also in their homes and asked for them to be sent in to her as early as possible.

SHAKESPEARIAN PLAYERS

Mrs. Gillespie announced the forthcoming speakers who will be in Victoria during the National Council of Education during the Fall, and asked that the Shakespearean Players should be given hearty support when they are here.

Educational secretaries of primary chapters are asked to read the instructions sent out by the National Educational Department I.O.D.E. for the short story and one-act play prize competition, which are at headquarters, room 401, Union Bank Building.

Jailed Mother May Feed Babe; Father Turns Favor Down

Hamilton, Ont., Sept. 28.—Emphatic denial of the statement that the six-month-old baby of Mrs. Annie O'neill is starving while the mother serves a two-months' jail term for shoplifting, was made here last night by W. Grieve, the expert of the child.

The father said that the sympathetic consideration of the Attorney-General's department in ordering that the child be allowed to be taken to its mother at the jail to receive nourishment is much appreciated, but the visit is unnecessary, as the child part of food yesterday and was doing well.

SCHOOLGIRLS PAY VISIT TO DUNCAN

Duncan, Sept. 28.—Twenty-four of the British schoolgirls, under the chaperonage of Miss Thompson, paid a short visit to Duncan this week. Mayor Mutter spoke a few words of welcome and a wreath was then placed on the war memorial.

Many members of the Cowichan Chapter, I.O.D.E., were present, and Mrs. F. H. Price, acting regent, also welcomed the visitors on behalf of the chapter.

Photographs were taken by F. A. Monk, and each girl will be presented with a copy as a souvenir of the occasion.

The schools represented are: Wycombe Abbey; Royal School, Bath; Liverpool College; Huxton; Cheltenham College; Sherborne School; Rodeau; St. Felix; Southwold; Walford Grammar School; Woodford Green School; St. George's; Harpenden; Manor House, Brondesbury; Grassendale; St. Paul's, and St. Mary's Calne.

Your Baby and Mine

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDERED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

SCHOOL BREAKFASTS MUST BE SUBSTANTIAL ONES

Breakfasts may have been eaten on the run this summer with impunity, for on hot mornings there seemed little interest in food; a glass of orange juice, or a dish of sliced peaches and a drink of milk sufficed, and if it didn't, one could always dash into the kitchen and beg a "piece" until lunch time.

Those days are over. Breakfasts now play a vitally important role in the child's well being. They must provide him with nutrition enough to last throughout the morning, with no yawning vacancy to make him miserable at about eleven. Children who go to school without a nourishing breakfast work on their nerves. That shouldn't be.

Mother will have to get up earlier in order to allow for the preparation of a good breakfast, but with foresight she can prepare her cereal the night before and reheat it in the morning. If it is one which demands long cooking. And Johnny, too, will have to roll out a half hour earlier so that he'll have time to enjoy his breakfast, for children have a tendency to take a last minute snooze and then snatch any breakfast that can be swallowed the quickest.

Put the child to bed earlier so he won't miss that morning half hour. Then give him a warm, filling, hot cereal, just the preparation for a long walk in cold air. Use a variety of cereals, oatmeal, wheat in all kinds of tempting forms, whole pearl barley, malt, cornmeal for a change. No child should be expected to eat the same cereals every day with relish.

Then a glass of hot milk, or milk flavored with cocoa. For the older children who have grown tired of cocoa, try hot milk flavored with cereal coffee, not the kind mother and father enjoy, but ground, browned cereals that taste like coffee but are not. Coffee and tea are positively not for the growing child. To send a child to school inadequately nourished with a cup of coffee and a piece of toast is dreadful. And yet lots of children exist through the morning on just such fare.

A glass of water upon rising, or for the appetiteless child a glass of orange juice, will stimulate an appetite when he comes to the table fifteen or twenty minutes later. Hot cereals first, and a dish of cooked fruit, if he hasn't had orange juice, then a hot drink, composed chiefly or altogether of milk, will send him off bulwarked against the cold and against an excess expenditure of his own body fat.

Children can't do good work on an empty stomach. They must be stimulated to recognize this fact, and the necessity for a hearty breakfast during the school years.

MRS. L. BARRYMORE LOSES BIG CASE

Will Fight Judgement of $2,500,000 in Mortgage Suit

New York, Sept. 28.—The Evening Post says that Irene Fenwick, actress, with her attorney, is preparing judgment that was the aftermath of her marriage to her first husband, Felix Isman, Philadelphia real estate man.

All her property has been bonded by a Los Angeles court order, the Post asserts, because twenty years ago, when she was the wife of Isman and less than eighteen years old, she signed a $3,700,000 mortgage agreement guaranteeing that her dower rights would not affect the execution of the mortgage loan obtained.

INVOLVED

Isman had bought the Stewart building here for $4,500,000. The $3,700,000 mortgage was not paid off. In 1909, a year afterward, Miss Fenwick divorced Isman and later married James F. O'Brien, whom she subsequently divorced. Then she married Barrymore.

Trustees of the Stewart estate in 1926 obtained a default judgment against Isman and Miss Fenwick here. Attorneys for the trustees, who had realized $2,365,000 for the sale of the New York property, have now obtained a judgment against the actress in California. An effort to set aside the 1926 judgment is to be started soon by her counsel, M. L. Malevinsky, the Post reported.

Todd.

After the performance, refreshments were served, followed by an informal dance, the music being supplied by C. Paver and T. Hunt. All the members of Colfax Lodge are working industriously for a novel bazaar, full details of which will be announced later.

The visitors were welcomed by members of the home committee, including Mrs. Wm. Grant, Mrs. J. W. Saunders, Mrs. A. E. Mitchell, Mrs. C. C. Spofford, Mrs. John Hall and Mrs. J. Frank. Scorch Stains

If you scorch an article rub soap on the scorched place and put out in the sun. Next cover with a thin mixture of starch and water and put in the sun. Alternate several times if the spot is stubborn. It will come out eventually.

For the sake of your hands alone-use Sunlight Soap

Put aside for a moment if you will, your thoughts of Sunlight's many general advantages . . .

Think only of your own precious hands and remember that Sunlight will save them from that coarsened, wash-day appearance.

Even if you use Sunlight Soap for no other reason than this—it will prove itself a boon.

Follow Through—

NOTHING gives you that peppy, driving energy like a tasty, nourishing breakfast. A bowl of Kellogg's Pep! See how fine and fit you feel! Not a single mental hazard!

NO HOCKEY DEAD ON PRAIRIES

Prospects Are Not Bright For Hockey In Prairie Towns

Demand of Fans in Edmonton, Regina and Calgary for Good Professional Hockey Caused Failure of League Last Year; New Pacific Coast League Will Take Cream of Western Players and Prairies Will Find Going Rather Hard

(SPECIAL TO THE TIMES)

Regina, Sept. 28.—Only a faint tremor of excitement was stirred up in these parts a few days ago when a dispatch from Calgary intimated the possibility of a resurrection of professional hockey in Alberta. Knowing the situation as they do, Regina fans are not only exceedingly sceptical about that proposed Alberta venture, but also hold-out slim hope for the Prairie League continuing operations this winter unless an "angel" loaded down with wealth gets in behind the local club and tries to push the Capital flivver out of the ditch in which it lies mired.

You can't make professional hockey pay unless you sign up real talent; instead of a bunch of shiny hounds out for a little easy money. And where Calgary and Edmonton can recruit their professional material, particularly in view of the inroads the new Pacific Coast league will make on the prairie players, is a question a lot of the fans are frankly stumped to answer.

WANT GOOD HOCKEY

The whole trouble can be summed up in a few words. Professional hockey passed out of the Canadian prairies two years ago when the Western league was sold, stock and barrel to Eastern interests. Efforts to replace it with a lower class of puck-propellers failed miserably in Calgary and Edmonton, who quit the new prairie circuit after a single year, and failed just as disappointingly in Regina, which should, as far as attendance figures go, have followed the example of the two Alberta clubs last mid-season. Saskatoon and Moose Jaw alone, and the latter was not a member of the professional league, seem willing to carry on with Class C hockey, and at this indicates nothing else at least proves that Saskatoon fans are the most tolerant critics who ever thronged inside a hockey arena in the West.

DRAW PRAIRIE PLAYERS

Then there is the revival of the Coast league, an item of tremendous significance to prairie players. Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and Portland are all of whom saw the best hockey in the world in the golden days, with the assistance of Frank Patrick, Pete Muldoon and some other "big boys" who are going to revive the moneyed game on the Pacific seaboard. Mindful of the fact that their customers have been used to mighty good hockey, and also of the fact that the fans of Calgary, Edmonton and Regina could not be "dedicated" to patronize an inferior quality, these moguls are not likely to sign up every Tom, Dick and Harry who can flourish a hockey stick.

A very intensive campaign all over Canada and the United States will be undertaken by these gents, and if there are any likely looking prospects in Alberta, it's a lead pipe cinch they'll first talk turkey with them, and then make before turning back to their own province for employment.

FELIX TO MIX WITH WALLACE

Five Good Bouts To Be Fought at Tillicum Gym To-morrow Evening

Plenty of action is expected when Leo Felix, Seattle battler, and Gordon Wallace, Vancouver's 135 pound fighter, mix at the Tillicum gym to-morrow evening in the main bout on the Central Boxing Club's card.

Both boys are old timers, and have shown lots of aggressive spirit in previous bouts. Wallace demonstrated his ability when he fought Dave Lewis last week and gained a draw. In the semi-windup, Ray Woods will go six rounds with Jumbo Davies. Woods is rated a real fighter and all who have seen young Davies in action know that he will mix with the best at his weight.

Roy Baker, an old timer, will try a come-back, and meets Jackie Newman of Vancouver, a good fighter and hard hitter.

The complete card is as follows:
Main event, six rounds — Wallace, Vancouver, vs. Felix, Seattle; 135 pounds.
Semi-windup, six rounds — Jumbo Davies, Victoria, vs. Ray Woods, Seattle; 114 pounds.
Baker vs. Jackie Newman, 125 pounds.
Bradshaw vs. McFadden, 140 pounds.
Beales vs. Millett, 160 pounds.
Reserved seats are now on sale at F. B. Richardson's news agent, 736 Yates Street.

Miss Marion Wilson and Mrs. Philbrick Will Play For City Golf Championship
Young Player Defeats Mrs. Hutchinson, While Mrs. Philbrick Beats Mrs. Boyd

Following yesterday's semi-final matches, the women's city golf championship will go to the Victoria Golf Club for the next twelve months as two members of Oak Bay, Mrs. Philbrick and Miss Marion Wilson, will meet to-day at Colwood in the final eighteen holes to decide the title.

Miss Wilson won her way into the finals by eliminating her clubmate, Mrs. Hutchinson, by the score of 4 and 2, while Mrs. Philbrick continued to win her way towards the title by defeating Mrs. Boyd, of Uplands, 7 and 5. The decisive win of Mrs. Philbrick was a surprise as the Uplands player was expected to put up a stiff fight.

A GOOD LEAD

In the match between Miss Wilson and Mrs. Hutchinson, the latter player got away to a fine start by copping the first three holes. Miss Wilson steadied down, winning the last three holes to become one up at the turn. In the last nine holes the British Columbia champion player splendid golf, and although she put up a good fight, Mrs. Hutchinson was forced to admit defeat.

Playing steady golf, which has featured her play all week, Mrs. Philbrick scored an easy win over Mrs. Boyd. Taking an early lead, the Oak Bay player was four up at the end of the first nine. She took the match in the twelfth hole, ending the match on the twelfth green.

In the final of the first flight, Mrs. Rasmussen of Colwood, will meet Mrs. Jackson, of Uplands. The former defeated Mrs. Richardson 2 and 1, while Mrs. Jackson won from Miss Matson, 6 and 5.

TROTTER RACE WON BY DOANE

World's Champion Winner at Lexington After Hard-fought Event

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 28.—Doane, world's champion four-year-old trotting gelding, owned by L. S. Hadley of Wilson, N.C., and driven by Cyrus Becker, won the historic Transylvania event yesterday after one of the hardest fought races trotted in that event in recent years.

The first heat went to Trumpet and the second to the favorite, Dewey McKinney, but the southern trotter proved best. Prior to the race it was not thought that there would be such a contest, only four horses being entered, but the finishes were close in each heat in addition to its going to the limit of four heats.

The Tennessee stake for three-year-old pacers, a secondary event on the card, went to Col. Strong in straight heats. Abbe Gray lived up to expectations by proving the chief contender. As a result of the race Col. Strong has an unbroken series of victories in the three-year-old pacing event in which he has started this year.

WON EASILY
The Cleveland pacer, Transpacer, owned by Geo. Tippling, proved best of the 2.10 pacers winning in straight heats, although not without a battle for each, a different horse finishing second each heat. Rose Morgan, showed she was a clever trotter earlier in the week, won the 2.19 trot, just missing the 2.05 list in the second heat. She is owned by E. M. Shout of Pontiac, Mich.

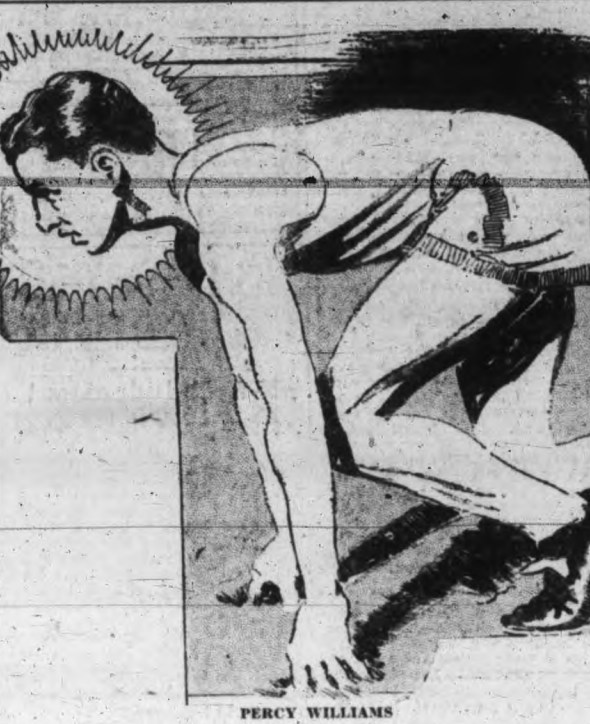

Don McLean To Lead J.B.A.A. Team

Donnie McLean was elected captain of the J.B.A.A. rugby team at a meeting of the club held in their clubhouse last night. He has been with the boys for several years and is thoroughly acquainted with the play of each member. This year he will direct the manoeuvres of the carmen from behind the scrum.

Campbell Forbes was elected vice-captain and Bob McInnes was re-elected manager.

About twenty husky players attended the meeting and from the enthusiasm shown a good season is expected.

World's Sprint Champ to Visit Here

PERCY WILLIAMS

Victorians will obtain their first glimpse of Canada's famous sprinter when he arrives next Saturday with the University of British Columbia Canadian rugby team. The Varsity will meet the Victoria representatives in the "Big Four" in the opening game of the season. An invitation has been sent to Williams by Victoria officials to kick-off the ball. No doubt hundreds of local sport lovers will attend the game just in order to see the boy who started the sport world by capturing the 100-metre and 200-metre sprint events at the recent Olympic Games.

RESERVES ARE PLAYING VITAL PART IN RACE

Second Line Troops Are Conspicuous in Major League

New York, Sept. 28.—Baseball clubs, like armies, usually are as strong as their reserves. Seldom in big league history has the second line of troops played so conspicuous a part in the deciding pennant struggles as this year. They may be equally as vital a factor in the world's series.

The Yanks, hard-hit by casualties and a slump at the same time, are staggering toward the pennant but they would have been down completely, in all likelihood, if it had not been for their reserves. When Tony Lazzeri's shoulder forced him out, peppery Leo Durocher stepped into the gap at second base. Gene Robertson and Mike Gazella plugged the third base hole left by Joe Dugan, while young Henry Johnson and old Tom Zachary have helped meet the pitching emergency created by the loss of Cy Moore and Herb Pennock, two of the 1927 mainstays.

A GREAT RESERVE
None of the four pennant scrapping outfits has a bench talent and experience on the bench, however, as the Athletics. Connie Mack has had the equivalent of two perfectly good first division clubs on his payroll. It would have drawn raucous laughter from the multitude a few years ago even to suggest that any club would have in reserve such an array as the veterans: Ty Cobb, Tris Speaker, Eddie Collins, Sam Rice, Joe Judge and Cy Young, along with youngsters like Haas and Hader. Unfortunately, even these reinforcements could not stop the Yanks whenever the clubs got together.

GIANTS STRONG
The Giants have had so much extra talent that McGraw has employed partially reversible infield and outfield arrays. When Eddie Roush passed out of the picture, Jimmy Welsh took over the job in sparkling style. Jimmy's batting and fielding, in fact, have been decisive factors in the final race of the club. On either side of him Reese and Mann have alternated with O'Doul and Ott. Reese, a handy man on the pinch, replaced Eddie Collins at second base against right-handed twirling. Behind the bat Frank Hogan does not need much assistance but if he does, there is Bob O'Farrell, the league's most valuable performer in 1926.

The Cards are well equipped with reserve pitching forces but otherwise they haven't been so fortunate as their rivals. Rabbit Marvelli has worked gallantly to hold down the shortstop post but he isn't as spry as he was when he formed the Braves' keystone combination with Johnny Evers in 1914. Ray Blades and Orsatti give the Cards reserve outfield strength, while Holm also is a good utility hand.

O.C. LEADERS WILL TRAVEL

Burnley, at Top of First Division, to Meet Leicester; Other Good Matches

London, Sept. 28.—The teams in the First Division of the English Football League are beginning to take positions in the averages. At the top is Burnley, followed by West Ham United, Blackburn Rovers, Derby County, Sheffield Wednesday, Huddersfield Town, a group of eight clubs, while Everton, the league champions, are well down the list. Near the bottom are such well-known clubs as Aston Villa and Arsenal.

In the Second Division, Chelsea, Notts County and Hull City have yet to be beaten. In the Scottish First Division, the only unbeaten team is Rangers.

A REAL TEST
To-morrow in the English First Division, Burnley must travel to Leicester, where a real test will await them.

The Wednesday game, the easiest mark as they are at home to Bolton Wanderers. Huddersfield Town will make the trip to London to meet Arsenal. It will thus be seen that all the leaders, except the Wednesday, are tourists and will play in games with ground advantage against them.

Chelsea and Notts will be hosts in Saturday's game, the former to Nottingham Forest, and the latter to Preston North End. If form means anything both home clubs have the better chance to win. Hull City go to Grimsby, and it looks as if their first defeat will take place there.

FEATURE MATCH
A feature match is scheduled to take place in the Scottish League when Rangers entertain Motherwell. At the other teams near the top of the averages, Aberdeen is the only one playing at home. They meet Raith Rovers. Hearts go to Dundee, Third Lanark to Falkirk and Celtic to Hamilton.

Shake-up in the placing of those teams in next week's standing is therefore likely.

LIFE-SAVING SOCIETY TO ELECT OFFICERS

The annual general meeting of the local branch of the Royal Life Saving Society will be held in the Y.M.C.A. on Tuesday, October 2, at 7.45 p.m. Reports will be issued by the officials in charge of the association this year and new officers will be elected for the coming season.

Major League Clubs Continue Their Mad Rush Toward Flags

New York Giants Split Double-header With Chicago and Slip Full Game Behind Cardinals, Who Easily Defeat Boston; Yankees Take Twin Bill From Detroit and Practically Cinch American League Bunting; Babe Ruth Hits Two Homers, One In Each Game

John McGraw's New York Giants have come to roost with a vengeance this season. If the "Little Napoleon of Baseball" eventually is nosed out of the 1928 National League pennant, and that seems likely, he can blame a good part of it on players who once wore New York Giant uniforms.

Art Nehf, once the left-handed pride of McGraw, dealt his one-time boss a staggering blow yesterday when he twirled the Chicago Cubs to a 3-2 victory over the Giants in the opening clash of a double-header. The Giants, fighting desperately to keep in the running, came back with a victory, notwithstanding an easy victory over the Braves carried the St. Louis Cardinals to a full game lead over the Giants, where a half-game had been their advantage before. Only three games remain on the schedule, and that one-game lead may well stand until the two contenders clash in their final battle of the year at the Polo Grounds on Sunday.

PITCHED WELL
Nehf, like Burleigh Grimes of Pittsburgh, another Giant castoff, delights in taking his former team-mates and he did just that thing to perfection, holding them to six hits while the Cubs were touching Karl Ruben for nine hits. Given a 3-2 lead as early as the fifth, Arthur saw to it that this margin sufficed.

In the second game the Giants got only three hits off Charlie Root and Percy Jones, but one of them was Frank Hogan's homer in the second and another was a single in the fourth by Lindstrom, who eventually scored on Hogan's sacrifice fly. Joe Genewich gave the Cubs only five hits and was never in danger.

AN EASY WIN
Jesse Haines pitched the Cardinals to an easy 8-3 victory over the Braves. The game was decided in the first inning when the Redbirds assaulted Brandt and Cooney for six runs. It was Haines' twentieth victory of the season, the last nine coming in a row.

Wally Pipp hit two homers as the Cincinnati Reds beat the Phillies 6-2, and Bismack did the same thing as the Brooklyn Robins took the Pirates over the traces in two games, 7 to 6 in ten innings and 8 to 1.

YANKS TAKE TWO
The New York Yankees just about clinched their third straight American League pennant when they beat Detroit in both ends of a double-header, 4-3 and 8-5. Darness halted the second game at the end of the seventh inning, a lucky break for the Yanks, for their pitchers were reeling and slumping. Waite Hoyt shaded Owen Carroll in the opener. Babe Ruth hit his fifty-first homer in the first inning of the first game and his fifty-second in the first inning of the second.

One more Yank victory or another defeat for the Athletics will clinch the pennant for the Yanks.

STILL HAVE CHANCE
The Athletics retained their mathematical chances by turning back the White Sox 5 to 3. Lefty Grove allowed six scattered hits, fanned nine men and hit a homer in the third inning. He fanned the side on nine pitched balls in the seventh. It was Grove's twenty-fourth victory of the year.

The Cleveland Indians overcame a seven-run lead to beat the Boston Red Sox 14 to 10 in the first game of a doubleheader, but lost the second 7 to 4.

The Washington Senators shaded the St. Louis Browns. Manush hit a homer with two on in the ninth when St. Louis scored all their runs. Yesterday's results were:

Wednesday Teams Will Swing Into Action on October 10; Strong Clubs Enter

Games between the Saanich United and Hudson's Bay eleven at the Royal Athletic Park and the Navy and Renfrew and Taylor's at Beacon Hill will open the Wednesday League soccer season on October 10.

Owing to the non-entry of the Tillamook and the Garrison the four teams entered will be able to get many fine players to strengthen their lineups and a good season is expected.

GOOD MATCHES LOOKED FOR IN LOCAL SOCCER

Weather More Suitable For Round Ball Artists; Three Matches Scheduled

City Meet Westholmes at Royal Athletic; Juniors Will Open Season To-morrow

With ideal football weather forecast, three games will be played to-morrow afternoon in the First Division. The league opened last week but the weather was a little too warm and after the first ten minutes the majority of the players were about ready to call it a day. The matches to-morrow will all start at 3 o'clock.

The games should result in some good soccer as the draw has brought together what appear to be the strongest clubs. Last Saturday's games were rather one-sided but it is expected that after the clubs get into mid-season form competition will be keener.

CITY MEET WESTHOLME
At the Royal Athletic Park Victoria City will tackle the Westholme eleven. Last week the former scored a victory over their old rivals, the Saanich Thistles, last year's champions. The City looked good in their opening game and appeared a much stronger club than last season. The Westholmes, who were beaten last week by the Victoria Wests, should show up better to-morrow. In their opening game they were handicapped through not understanding each other's play.

DOCKERS LOOK GOOD
Two teams who won last week, Esquimalt and the Victoria Wests, are scheduled to play at Beacon Hill. The Dockers, always a serious threat in the First Division, are fielding a young team this season, and on their showing last week appear to look able to hold their own with the remainder of the teams. The Wests are fielding a club composed mostly of their last year's players with a few changes. The greenhorns will have Hetherington out to-morrow to play goal. He played with the Thistles last season.

Saanich Thistles and Five C's are slated to meet in the third game on the programme. The former have lost a number of their last year's players and do not appear as strong as when they topped the championship. The Five C's were figured as one of the strongest teams in the league this season but did not show up very well in their game last Saturday against Esquimalt when they were beaten 7-2.

Junior soccer teams will open their season to-morrow with three matches scheduled. Six teams comprise the league this year and plenty of good football is looked for.

The games follow:
James Island vs. Oakland, at James Island.
Y.M.C.A. vs. Esquimalt, at Victoria West Park.
Bapcos vs. Victoria City, at Central Park.
The games will start at 3 o'clock.

To-morrow's teams will be as follows:
Wests—Hetherington, Sid, Sherratt, Pasmore, Feden, Popham, Thompson, Stewart, Plump, Robinson and Mulcahy.
Westholme—Bennett, Tuckwell, Harper, Wilson, McNaughton, Ruttan, Kelman, Price, Sothorn, Sneddon and Tipper.
Esquimalt—Chalmers, Sweeney, Mercer, Joe Watt, Bray, John Watt, Banks, Nicol, Hosmer, Boyd, Burnett and De Costa.

Saanich Thistles—Rogers, Rogan, Crowe, Price, Millar, Vigars, Crowe, D'Arcy, Beiler, Southern, Minnie, Ewing and Campbell.
Victoria City—Bridges, W. Campbell, Margison, Stoffer, Preston, Bowman, Gould, D. Russell, C. Bissell, B. Burns, D. Glancy, J. McBay and J. Carmichael.
Victoria City Juniors—Cochrane, McMillan, Vickers, Smith, Stoffer, Clark, Woolcock, G. Gibson, Gelling, J. Gibson and Sinkinson.
Esquimalt Juniors—Smith, Anderson, Warder, Bain, Hicks, Wills, Hicks, Brien, Wright, Stewart and McVane.
Y.M.C.A. Juniors—Bourne, McVane, Partington, Bailey, Owen, Engleson, Hetherington, Johnston, Smith, Hill, Paulding and Plozman.

RUGBY TEAMS START PLAY

Eastern Squads Engage in Exhibition Matches To-morrow

Toronto, Sept. 28.—Rugby football takes the eastern sport page Saturday with a full dress rehearsal in preparation for the official opening of the major campaigns next week.

At Oran's Stadium, Balm Beach, Canadian senior champions meet Kitchener-Waterloo, Dominion intermediate champions, now advanced to the senior ranks of the O.R.F.U. Argonauts hope for inter-provincial honors, tackle Varsity's intercollegiate squad at the student oval, while in Hamilton, Queens and Tigers last year's O.R.F.U. semi-finalists, clash.

ALL TEAMS BUSY

Practically all the other senior teams will be busy, for Ottawa will entertain Camp Borden at Lansdowne Park, while Barmia, new senior O.R.F.U. entry, will work out with the Wanderers, the Tunneltowns representatives in the intermediate ranks. Varsity Orphans will help out the seniors against Argos, while Hamilton's senior O.R.F.U. squad will be working with the Tigers. Montreal's "Big Four" tribe plays an inter-city exhibition match with Westwards.

COLWOOD WOMEN'S INSTITUTE ACTIVE

Colwood, Sept. 28.—Members of the Colwood Women's Institute held their monthly meeting Wednesday afternoon in the institute rooms. The meeting decided to send a donation of $100 to the Soldiers' and Sailors' Civil Control Administration in the finishing of the nurses' home. A donation of $5 will be sent to the Canadian Forestry Association.

It was the decision of the meeting that the institute should assist the hall committee in the matter of repairs of the hall when required. Miss H. O. Kelly, R.N., public health nurse, asked the members to co-operate in every way to make the Hal-lowsen party, arranged for October 31, a successful affair. All children in the district are invited.

A resolution from the Hornby Island Women's Institute, asking the support of all Island institutes in assisting them to secure more adequate transportation, was heartily endorsed by members of the Colwood Women's Institute.

A resolution from the Royal Oak Women's Institute, asking that measures be taken to prevent objectionable advertising in the daily papers and in some magazines, was endorsed by Colwood Institute.

Mrs. H. Parker read a very interesting paper on education and compared some of the newer methods of teaching with the older methods. Education is decidedly changing from the subject to the child, who is being more recognized as a growing entity. These newer methods had already made considerable progress in some parts of the world, and in British Columbia some initial steps had been taken, she said. The emphasis in teaching will centre more on the living personality, less on the contents of the textbook, she declared.

Mrs. T. Godfrey read a short article on Col. Lindeberg, comparing his achievements in the flying world to the meagre success he had attained in the academic world. Here was a case of the necessity of individual instruction, she stated. Following these addresses a short discussion took place on the newer ideas in education.

The secretary reported that the comforter recently made by the members of the Colwood Women's Institute had been won in the raffle by Mrs. J. Riddle, 1637 Amphion Street, Victoria, holding ticket No. 50.

The tea hostesses for the afternoon were Mesdames C. and J. Goodall.

SMALL CYCLONE DOES DAMAGE IN ONTARIO

Port Colborne, Ont., Sept. 28.—Cottages and shrubbery along a stretch of beach extending from Erie Beach to Crescent Beach, fifteen miles east of Port Colborne, suffered heavy damage Thursday afternoon from a miniature "twister" accompanied by heavy falls of rain and hail. The windstorm blew in windows of cottages and cracked limbs from trees. Eyewitness report that as the storm approached Lake Erie the water was churned up and a grey funnel-shaped cloud proceeded swiftly across the surface. Most of the cottages at the beaches were empty.

Schoolgirls Now At Jasper Lodge

Jasper National Park, Sept. 28.—Twenty-five British schoolgirls, who have been making a tour of Canada under the auspices of the I.O.D.E., arrived here last night for a short stay at the Jasper Park Lodge.

The girls are enthusiastic over what they have already seen and the cordial reception given them wherever they have been. Their arrival in Jasper Park they considered to be a high light of the tour, their interest being centered largely upon a trip to the Angel Glacier on Mount Edith Cavell, where they will do honor to the martyr nurse, and sight of the Jasper bears about which they have heard so much. From Jasper they are to proceed to Edmonton and then eastward over the Canadian National Railways.

Gerald Patterson Will Retire From Davis Cup Play

Sydney, N.S.W., Sept. 28.—Returning from U.S. yesterday Gerald Patterson, veteran Australian tennis player, announced his retirement from Davis Cup play. Patterson, who was the backbone of this year's international team, which lost to Italy in the first round, said that business would prevent him making the trips required by Davis Cup competition in the future.

Ogilipitis, Brother of Ogopogo, Snorts at Hunters at Cowichan

Cowichan Lake, Sept. 27.—Ogopogo's big brother, Ogilipitis, has made his appearance in Cowichan Lake, and the residents here are quite enthused over their new advertising agent. They feel that Ogilipitis, who has gained much advertising through the water-eyed, twisty-backed Ogopogo. His antics have been heralded far and wide, but Ogilipitis is bigger than his brother, has more wiggles and can almost loop himself.

A correspondent of The Cowichan Leader has turned in an account of Ogilipitis. He says that two men in a boat at Bear Lake say they saw the huge sea serpent not fifteen feet away. Not only once did this strange, wavy-fabled beast rear itself up and down before their astonished sight, but four or five successive times.

COULD DRAW ITS PICTURE

It had a head like an eel, they report, and snake-like body that appeared endless in length. They report that they saw it so distinctly that they could, if required, easily draw a picture of the fearsome beast.

Now this is not supposed to be a fish story, as the two men in a boat were not fishermen—but hunters on their way to the hunting grounds in quest of game.

Neither is it the raving of fevered imaginations, because both of them were medical men, who should be able to diagnose their own cases correctly and they declare their pulses were entirely normal and that they were not seeing things that exist only in gifted imaginations.

Some sceptics up here, however (and there are sceptics everywhere), maintain that it was very probably only a mirage that pictured on the atmospheric screen something that did not exist in reality.

But the two men in a boat are positive that the monstrosity they saw so unpleasantly near was none other than a brother of the much-discussed, but seldom encountered Ogopogo.

BALDWIN SCORES LABOR PARTY

Leaders Lack Courage, Says Prime Minister, in First Election Speech

Great Yarmouth, Sept. 28.—Declaring that the issue of the next general election in Great Britain would be the socialist challenge against constitutionalism and individualism, Premier Stanley Baldwin last night delivered what was generally considered as his first address of the election campaign, before a rally at the fifty-sixth annual conference of the National Union of Conservative and Unionist Associations, which opened here to-day.

Nearly 3,000 people greeted the Premier, whose first sentence indicated that his speech would consist largely of a long distance survey of general election prospects.

Premier Baldwin pointed out that the Conservative party had lost but six seats in four years. He passed early in his address to criticism of the Labor party for lack of discipline during the general strike and the stoppage of work in the coal fields.

NO COURAGE

The Labor party leaders never had had courage to say in public what was felt and known in private, he declared, and until Labor opposed its own extremists, it would never secure Great Britain's suffrage.

Turning to a discussion of the safeguarding of industries, Premier Baldwin said that the experimental stages were passing away, and that if the Conservative party should be returned to power, the safeguarding of industries would not be used as a side door for the introduction of a general protective tariff, until the question of a tariff for the country had been submitted to the nation. The Premier added that no industry would be barred from proving its case for protection before an appropriate tribunal.

SAFEGUARDING

The Conservatives had no doubt, he said, that the procedure of safeguarding needed simplifying and shortening. The Conservative party, the speaker added, were agreed that there should be no tax on food.

Premier Baldwin indulged in a number of lively tilts at the Liberal party. He said he had noticed that the Labor party had said that the Liberal programme was lifted bodily out of the Labor programme, "but water had been substituted for Labor wine."

This confirmed his suggestion that while Labor was Socialism "with the courage of its convictions," modern Liberalism was Socialism without the courage of its convictions.

Newest Fall and Winter Overcoating and Suitings Now on Display.

WHEN any man lifts his head above the crowd, it's almost a certainty he has achieved some one thing that is responsible for his pre-eminent position.

It's the same with a business.

Tip Top Tailors' organization was founded eighteen years ago on a single idea. Throughout our remarkable growth from a very small beginning to the largest one-price tailors in the world, this main idea has never been lost sight of.

The basic idea is simply this: To offer the best grade of tailored-to-measure clothes possible at one fixed price and to control every step of making and selling. That meant buying wools direct from the mills, tailoring all garments in our own great wholesale plant and selling direct through our own stores at one standard price.

The result is that we can offer—tailored to measure at $27—a standard of quality in men's clothing that no other clothier in all Canada can equal.

There can be no real competition with Tip Top value until some other firm copies Tip Top Tailors' methods and equals our volume of business—and to-day Tip Top Tailors are not only the ONLY strictly one-price tailors in Canada but the LARGEST organization of its kind in the world.

LAKE HILL RESIDENTS ASK PARK

Bus Sale Profits of $10,000 to Be Used For Playgrounds

Development of an eight-acre park on Rock Street, and a football field on Reynolds Street, were unanimously favored by the residents of Lake Hill last evening at Lake Hill Community Hall, after discussing disposal of $10,000 allotted by the Saanich Council to the Lake Hill bus area as a share of the sale price of the bus line.

Reeve William Crouch explained that the grant had been made in recognition of the guarantee against loss which the bus area had given the municipality.

SUGGESTIONS
George McGregor, chairman of the meeting, called for suggestions, and the following were introduced:

Investment of the money, in part, to be used to provide four yearly bursaries.

Provision of a high school building. Construction of two additional rooms at Cloverdale School.

Development of centrally located playgrounds for the children.

Equipment of the Lake Hill Community Centre with bowling greens and tennis courts.

Reeve Crouch informed the meeting that a fine property of nearly eight acres on Rock Street is owned by the municipality, the location being central to the whole area interested.

City Parks Superintendent Purdy had stipulated that expenditure of $6,000 would convert the area into one of the most attractive parks in Greater Victoria.

FOOTBALL FIELD

Towards a football field a one-and-one-half acre tract on Reynolds Street was owned by the municipality, and adjoining lots could be purchased to make up the two-and-one-half acres required. He believed that $2,000 would suffice to provide an excellent level football field.

After considerable discussion all projects except the playgrounds scheme were either defeated or withdrawn and the meeting unanimously favored development of the Rock Street property as an eight-acre park and the Reynolds Street property as a football field.

Reeve Crouch asked for appointment of an advisory committee to aid the council in immediate development of the two projects and the meeting named the following: J. Ewing, Walter Peddie, J. McN. Paterson, J. Richardson and L. W. Cockburn.

The meeting closed with a hearty vote of thanks to Chairman George McGregor.

OAK BAY TAXES IN FINE STATE, COUNCIL HEARS

Back Taxes Higher Than Estimate and Make Year a Record One

Less Property Reverts This Year Than at Any Time in Municipality's History

Taxes in Oak Bay are this year in the best condition in the history of the municipality. It was reported at the regular meeting of the Oak Bay Council held last evening, with Reeve E. C. Hayward in the chair.

The 1928 tax sale and the state of back taxes were reported upon by the city clerk and the reeve and councilors expressed extreme pleasure over the condition of affairs at the present time.

EXCEED ESTIMATE
Payment this year of tax arrears exceeded the estimate and brought in $192 more than was budgeted on, which is the first time there has been a surplus payment. The total receipt from the back taxes was $4,692, while the estimate put on the arrears was only $4,500.

1928 TAX SALE
Forty-nine parcels of land assessed at $35,263 were sold at the tax sale this year and brought in a good sum. The sale showed a new low record so far as abandonment of property was concerned, and also marked a big improvement in the bidding number of cases. The forty-nine parcels sold were allowed to be auctioned only because it was necessary to clean up unregistered or delinquent payments. It was pointed out to the council.

Prospects for next year's financial condition seem even brighter than in 1928. This year things were certainly in fine condition and, with marked improvement all the time, Oak Bay expects to enhance its position in regard to taxation as time goes on. A large amount of building is also going on in the municipality, mostly small stucco cottages of unique design, which add much beauty to the general landscape.

STYLE—THE NEW FACTOR IN JEWEL CRAFT

For many centuries the making of Jewelry has been a fine art—the creation of masterpieces in miniature. Collections in museums testify to the loving care given to jewel craft in all ages. Egypt, the fountain of culture, Imperial Rome, France of the Renaissance—all countries and climes have contributed treasure to the store—each reflecting the tastes of great people.

In Canada until recently, we asked only that jewelry be beautiful and have value. To-day we demand as well that it have style and personality. By style in jewelry we mean that it takes on the character and peculiarity of our own day.

The jewelry in this advertisement reflects the smartness which is the spirit of an age that calls for style in all things, and makes jewelry a focal point of costume. This great quitting business sale offers a wonderful opportunity for every purse to save 50% and more on jewelry with a personality.

MR. J. M. WHITNEY Says:—

After 43 years of active participation in the jewelry business I feel I have earned the privilege of retiring. With a firm determination to dispose of every article in record-breaking time I have slashed prices without thought of profits or losses. This complete stock needs no introduction to the people of Victoria. For more than 20 years this store has been known as "The House of Quality." Now—during this liquidation, you can choose any article from the entire stock at a mere fraction of its intrinsic worth. Twenty-one years of business integrity in Victoria backs every sale. Our usual high standards of service will prevail during this last period of selling, as always.

IRELAND WELL REPRESENTED IN COLUMBIA CAST

"Hurrah for Erin!" That would seem to be the slogan of the screen players in "Let 'er Go, Gallagher!" a dramatic Pathe-DeMille picture which is being shown at the Columbia Theatre to-day. Junior Coghlan, who portrays the title role, is a freckled-faced Irish lad, employed as an office boy on a metropolitan newspaper. Harrison Ford interprets the part of Callahan, an Irishman and star reporter on the paper. Wade Boteler, the detective, bears the name of McGinty. Thus the Emerald Isle is more than well represented in this exciting story of newspaper life by Richard Harding Davis. Elinor Fair and Ivan Lebedeff are also in the cast.

LOIS WILSON IN "FRENCH DRESSING" AT PLAYHOUSE NOW

Paris is not alone a city for discovering new loves—it is also the ideal spot for recapturing old love. That, at least, was the experience of Lois Wilson in the role of Cynthia Grey, the prim little girl from Boston in "French Dressing," the Allan Dwan production for First National, now at the Playhouse Theatre. H. B. Warner, Clive Brook and Lillian Tashman are also in the cast.

GRETA NISSEN IS LEADING LADY AT CAPITOL THEATRE

The film adaptation of the famous stage hit is much better than its "legitimate" original, according to Richard Wallace, noted motion picture director. Wallace produced it in First National's adaptation of the notable footlight success, "The Butter and Egg Man." So did the cast of the film production, now playing at the Capitol Theatre.

Most critics have given the "silent players" the verdict over the "speaking players" in comparing the stage and screen versions of "The Butter and Egg Man."

Jack Mulhall is featured in the title role of the picture. Greta Nissen plays opposite him. The stage attractions appearing at the Capitol Theatre for to-day and tomorrow include Sandberg and Fox, the well-known comedy dance duo; Frederick Stone, Ireland's famous operatic tenor in song selections; and Peggy and Vincent, two singing comedians. Harold Bechtel, the singing M.C., and the Capitol orchestra are also quite a feature on this week's bill.

DOMINION FILM MADE ON DESERTS OF CALIFORNIA

Many members of the Universal company nearly froze while on location in the desert making scenes for "The Foreign Legion," the gripping romance at the Dominion Theatre to-day, with Stone co-starring, supported by Mary Nolan, the screen's most beautiful blonde, and June Marlowe.

In all California there are but three places where rolling sand dunes can be found, such as are characteristic of the Algerian desert. The Universal company used the sand dunes on the edge of the ocean near Guadalupe, California, half-way between Los Angeles and San Francisco. This is a high country which gets the full sweep of the wind from the ocean or from the High Sierras, in either case a cold, high breeze which settles down to a steady pace at dusk.

At nights the company nearly froze. Six and eight thicknesses of blankets were used by the entire cast to keep the chill out of their bones. At early morning when they left for the location the air was crisp and the desert was covered with snow. But the sun quickly dispelled the frost and by 9 o'clock the heat of the desert rivalled anything in the Sahara.

Two weeks were spent there by the company, including the cast and some 300 "extras" garbed in the colorful costume of the Foreign Legion.

LONDON SUCCESS HERE NEXT WEEK

George Robey Will Present "Bits and Pieces" at Royal For Three Days

George Robey's name is well known in this and all other English-speaking countries. He has been on the stage forty years, but he is now in Canada for the first time in his life, and comes here in "Bits and Pieces" to the Royal Victoria Theatre for the first three days of the week commencing Monday, October 1, when perhaps the fourtieth show in which he has appeared. It is also his best show, and is the culmination of a lifetime of careful study of what the people like. In that time he has probably thought up and "put over" more gags and quips than any other comedian, and he has come to know his public. He has discarded everything that is unnecessary, and can put together a show that London will go wild over any time.

For his Canadian tour he has surrounded himself with a company that has passed the tests of London and that is sure to meet with equal success here. Chief support of this brilliant comedian is Miss Marie Blanche, an English favorite who combines with a rare gift for comedy a well-trained voice, ability as a violinist and a charm all her own.

The Hippodrome Eight, a pretty, co-tette of dancers, displays ability of a high order, showing a richness of beauty. A male soloist, a male quintette, a solo dancer, petite and pretty, and several other high-class acts are combined in a show that puns smoothly along as one performance. The scenic effects are good throughout, and there are about twelve stage dressings for Mr. Robey alone, or Mr. Robey and Miss Blanche.

Mr. Robey has set himself out to do his best in Canada. In "Bits and Pieces" he is at the height of his form.

For the second half of the week he will appear in "Between Ourselves," another Robey invention that is full of Robeyisms. Those who see him in "Bits and Pieces" will be impatient for the premier of this new presentation. A first night in Victoria of London's favorite is truly a unique event.

Mackenzie River Bishop is Named

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—Archdeacon W. A. Geddes, B.A., who for many years has labored among the Eskimos of the Arctic, was yesterday elected bishop of the diocese of Mackenzie River. The election of Archdeacon Geddes, who succeeds Bishop J. B. Lucas, was announced following a meeting of bishops of the province of Rupert's Land, of the Church of England, over which Archbishop Matheson presided here yesterday.

The newly-elected bishop, who has spent eight years in the Far North, now is en route to Winnipeg. Bishop Lucas retired two years ago, and since that time the diocese of Mackenzie has been supervised by Bishop J. O. Stringer of the Yukon. The Mackenzie River diocese covers an area of 600,000 square miles.

STOCK MARKETS FINANCIAL NEWS GRAIN MARKETS

TO-DAY'S GRAIN MARKETS

(By Branson, Brown & Co. Limited)

Winnipeg, Sept. 28.—The wheat market was dull, narrow, affair to-day with very little of feature going on. Prices were mostly slightly higher all through on one or two occasions they dipped under the previous close. Offers were again extremely light, the pool only putting out a little wheat on the hard spots. Elevator companies were not hedging and still report that farmers are holding, not being satisfied with the grading at country points. Seaboard houses and mills took a little wheat at times but export business over night was very small and was estimated by seaboard at 250,000 bushels in all positions. Export business of this market on Thursday was much larger than reported and it is said to reach nearly 500,000 bushels. This was reflected in the cash market to-day when there was an excellent demand for all grades, and spreads were unchanged to one cent better, the lower grades being mostly wanted and showing the most strength. Millers report the demand for flour as just fair with not much doing in exports.

The weather in Western Canada continues favorable and the movement from the farms is large, but not quite as heavy as a few days ago. Clearances from the head of the lakes have dropped off and supplies are beginning to accumulate, now being about 22,000,000 bushels, with thousands of cars en route and country elevators pretty well filled up. Wheat inspected Thursday totaled 2,238 cars of which 1,393 graded No. 4 or 4½.

Considerable frosted wheat is coming through and while the milling qualities are said to be not greatly reduced, it is grading lower. World shipments will likely be sharply lower this week. Liverpool was due ¼ lower, closed ¼ to ½ lower but was firmer early in the day. Continue to advise sales on the upturn. Winnipeg futures closed ¼ to ½ higher.

Calcutta Luck

A Thrilling Story of Fate and the Famous Sweepstake

By E. C. BULEY

"Yes, don't you see, that's just the point, old thing. I'm not dead; and I mean to show them that I'm very much alive."

"So you'll take a chance with Buddy Grant? You know other people are not so eager? I ought to tell you that Buddy is a real flying foot."

"Well, I did a bit of flying myself in the war," Franklin said. "There's nothing in it, really, you know. I expect that between us, Grant and I can tool his old bus across. But the thing is to find Buddy Grant."

"Some of the smartest men in New York are looking for him right now," he was assured. "Make your mind easy, Mr. Franklin; we'll have Buddy Grant waiting when you and I have come back from lunch. I want you to tell me all about this Derby race."

"Darby," corrected Allen Franklin. "There's an Irish Derby and an Ascot Derby, and even one here in Kentucky, or so I've been told. But the race at Epsom is the Darby; the one and only Darby."

"That's mighty interesting," said his sympathetic hearer. "I want to hear all about it; and just why this horse Parachute cannot start unless you fly the Atlantic."

It was the fault of nobody but Allen Franklin that, in the long talk over an elaborate lunch, the one essential fact was not revealed—the fact that Franklin's presence on Epsom course was in no way essential to the running of Parachute. The American newspaper men would possibly have discouraged the mad adventure which followed had that been made clear. But the racing rule Franklin quoted seemed so unreasonable that there seemed nothing remarkable in unreasonable conditions being imposed upon the observance of the rule.

And while Franklin lunched and talked, Otis J. Kramhorst had discovered, in an establishment known as Barney's, the speaker, the only Buddy Grant, who was in a condition which fully warranted the pessimism of the aerodrome mechanic. But much can be done in a Turkish bath and with cunning draughts compounded by a chemist, and when Franklin was brought back to the newspaper office after his protracted lunch he found Buddy Grant waiting for him there.

Franklin saw a big, reckless boy with a face from which the traces of bootleg whisky had not been entirely cleansed by the hot and steam rooms. "I hear that you want to fly to England to see a horse race," Buddy said, after presentation had taken place.

"That is so," Franklin admitted, defensively. "Maybe you've got a line on the winner?" Buddy suggested.

"I can guarantee that much, at least," Franklin agreed, thawing a little. "And you aim to start at peep o' day to-morrow?"

"If we are to be there in time," "Suits me," said Buddy Grant. "A guy who'll take a chance on my flying to see a horse race suits me. I hear you did some flying during the late war. Know anything about wireless?"

"Enough to send messages on our way," Franklin claimed. "Suits me," Buddy repeated. "We go at five to-morrow."

"But the weather," objected Otis J. Kramhorst. "You can't go if the weather isn't just right."

"That's right," retorted Buddy Grant. "Is what they said to Columbus." That bit of repartee dissolved Franklin's remaining doubts. He extended his right hand, which Buddy clasped warmly.

"Mr. Grant; hell!" said the amateur aviator. "I'm Buddy. And I'm going to call you Frank!"

The news organization shepherded the pair of adventurers very closely through that evening; undertaking all the preparations for the flight. The one fear was that this man-size story, which was to be smeared all over the front page of next day's paper, might get into rival hands. At daybreak next morning everything was ready. Some day was caused by the exigencies of a man with a motion picture camera, who wanted a great deal for his money, as Franklin complained when a strange but beautiful girl embraced him fondly at a signal from this artist.

Not long after 5 o'clock, by American time, the plane rose and climbed in circles towards a clear sky. Then, backed by a steady westerly breeze, it headed eastward and slipped out of sight.

"Fool's luck with the weather," remarked Otis J. from the depth of his twenty-year-old wisdom. "They might even get there at that."

BETTER NEWS

London had eaten its breakfast, read its morning papers and settled down to the business of the day—the day before the Derby—before the two adventurers made their start from the American shore. New York time is as much behind the time of London as all that, and so it came that the London newspapers, with the exception of The Morning, were blissfully unaware that the Parachute mystery had broken out in a new and aggravated form on the other side of the Atlantic.

John Blake, scanning The Morning over his eggs and coffee, was at first slightly nettled, and then hugely amused at the treatment he had received from that ruffled organ of public opinion. His story was told with a slight flourish, but with a frankness of qualification as follows:

"Mr. Blake, who first believed that Mr. Allen Franklin was dead, and who now asserts that he is alive, also committed himself to the statement that Mr. Franklin will be present at the race for the Derby in order to establish his identity beyond all cavil. In order to be present, Mr. Blake admits that Mr. Franklin must undertake the journey by Parachute, starting this morning. Our readers will probably draw their own conclusions."

"If it were not so dangerous for poor Franklin," John murmured to himself, "this would really be a lark. Apparently The Morning has never met a man like Franklin, capable of starting for the North Pole at ten minutes' notice, with a toothbrush and a pair of snowshoes for equipment. He has probably stolen a plane by this time, if no other way existed of getting a ride."

There was other news which kept Blake alternately frowning and chuckling over his paper. The decision that Parachute was entitled to start, for instance, had caused another flurry in the betting market; and from a hundred to three offered against the colt, the odds had fallen to four to one. There were two columns of letters expressing the varying emotions of British sportsmen and others at the position which had arisen, and a dignified editorial, pointing out the necessity of amending a racing rule which could lead to so much misunderstanding.

And while Blake chuckled the New York telephones and cables suddenly got busy. Simultaneously explosions took place in the offices of the London evening papers, as they raced to be first on the streets with the incredible news. Allen Franklin had actually started on the aeroplane journey, and his pilot was Buddy Grant; New York was fairly explicit about Buddy Grant; at least, the message implied fairly enough that the odds were long against his getting anywhere on an ocean flight except into the ocean itself.

Once more, it seemed, the cold hand of death might snatch Parachute from the list of Derby runners. All the possibilities of the wireless and cable services were utilized by the London newspapers. Steamers on the air were implored by wireless to keep a lookout for the ventures and to transmit wireless messages with the least possible loss of time. The camera man who had delayed the start by his importunity succeeded in transmitting a picture by wireless to London, with Franklin and his companion posed before their machine. Reproduced in the midday edition of the London papers, it was asked why on earth should people who had known Allen Franklin in his balmy days to identify him at a glance. When all doubts could be set at rest by that obvious expedient, it was asked why on earth should Franklin risk his life so madly at a crisis when, for the first time, it was of value and importance to others as well as to himself.

According to the New York cables, Franklin had been very explicit about his plans and very elaborate in his calculations. His timetable allowed him no opportunity for lingering in any way, if he were to carry out his plan and witness the race for the Derby. He expected to land at Epsom just in the midst of the great race, on the course he was reported to have said—though he was to be just to him, Franklin had explained that open spaces near Epsom track would provide easy facilities for his landing.

But the picture of a plane swooping down upon the dense Derby day crowd was presented, and it was certainly no madman who was seen in the midst of the excitement. John Blake, devouring the news in his hotel smoking room, heard a page boy calling his name in shrill tones, and saw the boy approaching, followed by an unmistakable reporter.

"The newshounds are on my trail," John murmured, and without troubling even about his hat, slipped out of a side door. He turned round a corner to the garage which furnished him with a car, and at full speed for Joan's office. It was a heavenly day of Spring, and the newspaper placards were in full bloom. The news in his hotel smoking room, heard a page boy calling his name in shrill tones, and saw the boy approaching, followed by an unmistakable reporter.

BEDTIME STORY Uncle Wiggily and Papa Kat

By HOWARD R. GARIS

"Something will have to be done about it," mewed Papa Kat one day just as Uncle Wiggily was hopping past the house where the three Kat children lived—Tommy, Jole and Kittle.

"Are you speaking of the weather?" asked the rabbit gentleman.

"No, though something ought to be done about that, too," went on Papa Kat. "But what I was speaking of was my catnip. It's been taken again."

"Go you mean by burglars?" asked Uncle Wiggily, for he could see that Papa Kat was quite excited.

"No, I don't believe any burglars took my catnip," said the father of the Kat children. "Though the Bob Cat would take it if he could find it. But this time one of the family is to blame."

"Is it Tommy, Jole or Kittle?" asked Uncle Wiggily, who was sorry to think that some of his playmates among the animal children had been naughty.

"No, it isn't any of the grown-up Kats," said Papa Kat. "Tommy, Jole and Kittle are off at school and the Lady Mouse Teacher gives them lessons by which they learn not to take catnip that doesn't belong to them."

"Well, then," asked Uncle Wiggily, slow and solemn like, "who took your catnip?"

"It was our newest little one—Pussy Kat," was the answer. "At first I could hardly believe it, but her mother watched and saw Pussy take some of it."

"I hid it in the pantry,"

"Out on the porch asleep," whispered Papa Kat.

"Then I'll hide the catnip here," said Mr. Longears and he stuffed it in a paper bag and put the bag in the corner of the room in plain sight.

"Oh, that will never do!" mewed Papa Kat. "Pussy will be sure to see it or smell it there the first thing. Why, even a baby fly could see where you have hidden the catnip."

"Yes, maybe," chuckled Mr. Longears. "We'll see if Pussy can find it. Sometimes, when you put things in plain sight they're harder to find than if you hid them inside the piano. Wait until Pussy wakes up and we'll see what happens."

So, if the goldfish doesn't go swimming in the milk bottle and come out looking like a creamed oyster, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and Pussy Kat.

Langford

Langford, Sept. 28.—After a two-months' vacation the monthly meeting of the Women's Institute members was held in their hall on Dunford Road.

The president, Mrs. J. L. Brown, presided, and there was a good attendance of members and visitors. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. E. H. Phillips, Mrs. George Cooney acted in her place. The finance report was considered very satisfactory and included profits from the garden party in aid of the Solarium, kindly aided by Mrs. D. E. Bullen at "Marshwood," which probably will be augmented by the institute.

A case of jam, given by a member, was gratefully acknowledged by Miss Stone, superintendent of the Solarium. A shower will be held at the October meeting for this institution.

All members who knitted cuffs for the Solarium patients are requested to send them to the local W.I. secretary. The library books loaned should be returned immediately to the librarian, Mrs. L. G. Wilkinson, so that a new supply can be procured.

Particulars of a glove-making class were discussed and several members wished to join lessons which will be given by Mrs. Bond of Okanagan. Any member or friend wishing to take the course should get into touch with the secretary as soon as possible. The proposal to entertain the neighboring institute and Royal Oak institute members, in honor of Langford winning a cup twice for its horticultural exhibit at the Vancouver Inland Spring Flower Show, was agreed upon by those present.

A new sink has been installed in the kitchen and all contents of the hall insured. It was announced, Dahlias, mignonette and yellow daisies decorated the room and tea was served by Mrs. A. B. Brown and Miss Savory.

Mrs. A. B. Cuthbertson demonstrated the decorating of a cake and many members tried their hand at making the delicious cakes. Delicious chocolate, also made by Mrs. Cuthbertson, were tasted by all present. The president proposed a hearty vote of thanks to the demonstrators, also to Mrs. G. Looney for acting as secretary.

The following motorists stayed at the Langford hotel on Monday: Mr. and Mrs. F. Cox and family of Carlton, Oregon; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Hetherington, Cowby, Alta.; Mr. A. Kay, Ulayburn; Mr. and Mrs. Wasey, Vancouver; Mr. Arthur Haig, Kingsway, Vancouver; Mr. and Mrs. T. L. McNeill, Santa Cruz, California; Mr. and Mrs. C. Coanach, Branciforte, Santa Cruz, California.

On Saturday afternoon, on the Langford tennis courts, a return match will be played between a Cedar Hill team and the home team.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Dane and family, who have been spending some time at Langford Lake, have returned to their home in Victoria.

A surprise novelty will be a special feature of the first card party of the local Canadian Legion Branch in its club rooms on Friday at 8.30 p.m.

All persons interested in hamilton are requested to attend an initial meeting in Colwood Hall on Monday evening at 8 o'clock for the purpose of forming a club in the district in the near future.

NEW CLINIC TO BE HELD AT COLWOOD

Colwood, Sept. 28.—The fourth quarterly meeting of the Equimait Rural Nursing Service was held Tuesday evening in Colwood Hall. The secretary reported that the dental clinic for the year was now complete, and that for the first time the nursing service had attained its objective in that fifty per cent of the dental charges had been voluntarily paid by the patients.

After the routine business had been transacted the question of the date of the annual meeting came up. This meeting is of interest to every resident in each district covered by the Equimait Rural Nursing Service, and more particularly to the newer residents, who may not be familiar with the great benefits derived by residents of the rural districts. The meeting was unanimously fixed for Monday, October 29, at 8 p.m. in Colwood Hall. The speakers of the evening will be Dr. H. E. Young, Dr. Irene Barstow Hudson, and through the kindness of the Saanich Council, Dr. D. Berman will also be present and address the audience.

An item of the greatest importance to the general health of the children of the districts and one for which the services have long worked, is a pre-school clinic. This clinic is now a fact, and the place and date of the first meeting will be announced within the next few days. The council of the Equimait Rural Nursing Service is extremely grateful to the Saanich Council for its co-operation and sympathy in the matter of establishing this clinic. It is through the co-operation of the Saanich Council that Dr. Berman will conduct the clinic. The importance of the clinic can scarcely be exaggerated, and the Equimait Rural Nursing Service is sure that the value will be appreciated by the residents of the districts concerned.

Book of Knowledge

Sketches by Bessy.
Synopsis by Bruchon.

THE WRESTLERS

This boy has an interesting toy that he has made himself. The secret of these jolly wrestlers is merely a couple of clothespins. If a thin thread is used the toy looks very mysterious, as spectators cannot see the thread as the wrestlers go through their amusing antics.

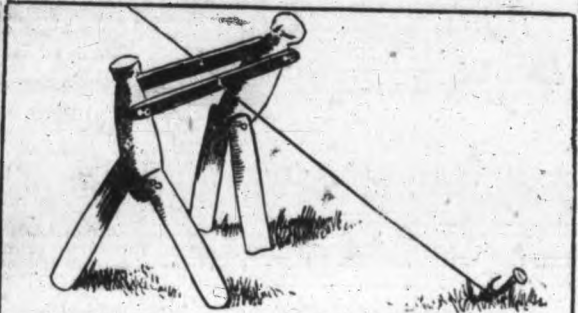

By NEA, Through Special Permission of the Publishers of The Book of Knowledge, Copyright, 1923-25.

Pierce the clothespins with holes as marked in the picture, using a small bradawl. Cut off the legs where they join the body of the pin.

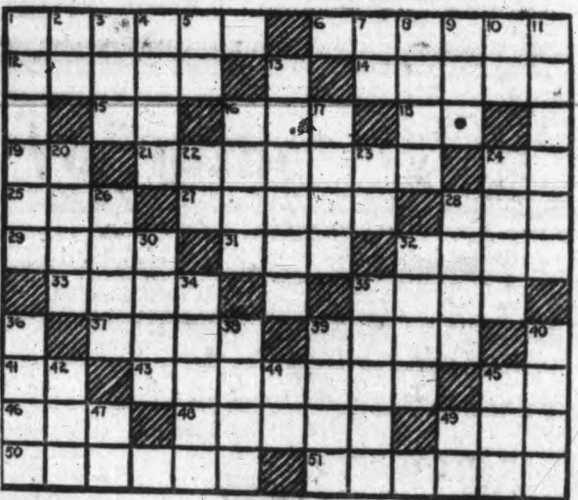

Two thin slips of wood make the arms. Wire these to the body of the pin loosely, allowing for play. Wire the legs to the body as shown.

We now take a piece of black thread nine or ten inches long and tie one end through the hole in one of the arms. Fasten this to the ground, then take a longer piece of thread and tie it through the hole in the other arm. The wrestlers are now in position to begin their bout.

To-morrow's Horoscope

Many adverse influences are strong today, according to astrology, which reads in the stars warning to be cautious while this planetary rule prevails.

The mind may be open to many possibilities—visions and fears. It is an unfavorable time for making decisions. Under this star the worst is always expected. It is an auspicious day for spreading evil report, especially regarding political candidates, but which will serve as boomerangs, it is foretold. Those who seek employment should postpone effort unless they are strong to meet disappointment. Astrologers warn. Persons who have power to bestow favors probably will be hard to please at this time when the stars seem to encourage criticism and pessimism. Election thunders under this star. Again the stars foretell surprises in the national political campaign and elections. As tomorrow's horoscope has the astrologers' words to the effect that only good is to result from the votes of the people.

Business organization will be developed along many novel lines. It is foretold and prosperity will be widespread in the new year. Astrologers read in the stars warning that men and women will think according to standardized rules and they cannot in consequence be unimpaired "matters."

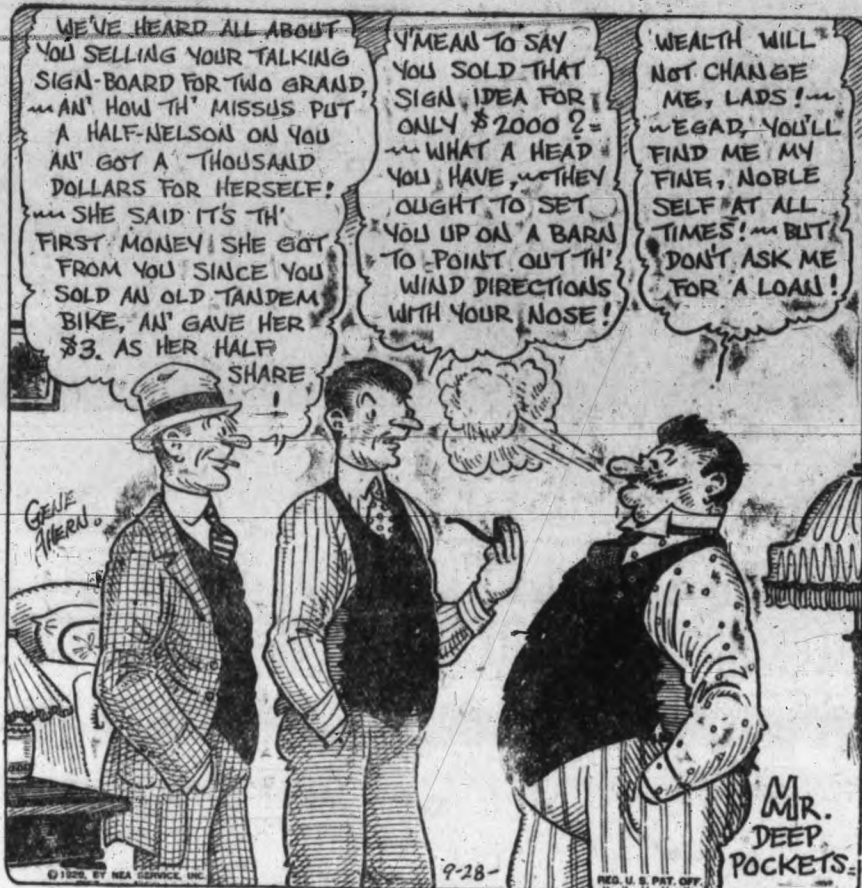

Aviation is to make tremendous strides this Autumn, it is forecast, but several terrible accidents are prophesied. Since the air has been conquered the next explorers will turn to the ocean, if the stars are really read, and women will solve mysteries hitherto considered beyond the human ken. Children born on this day have the powers of eventual careers. They should be of future great public service and at tain-highest pincer. They are likely to be unusually attractive in appearance and generally, their eyes are exceedingly beautiful and expressive. Persons whose birthdate it is may reach crises in their lives in the coming year which will bring great hardships. They should listen to expert advice.
